PARALYSIS OF WORK IMPLIED IN DEMANDS

Seattle Unit Closes Two Big Factories Temporarily, Asks Wage Directive.

PROGRESSIVE 'STALL'

'Mass Meeting' Used to Get Around No-Strike Pledge of AFL Affiliates.

(By United Press)

SEATTLE, Wash.—An implied threat of creeping paralysis in the vital airplane industry was held over the National War Labor Board today by the local union of flying fortress workers.

The union, Industrial District Lodge 751 of the International Association of Machinists, (AFL), had demonstrated, its ability to close the two big local plants of the Boeing company in which flying fortresses are made. It closed both of them yesterday afternoon and kept them closed for three hours and only today was production again approaching normal, according to company officials.

Unless the war labor board issues a directive "on aircraft wages, based on common sense and the condition under which it was asked," before midnight Sunday, the flying fortess workers will start "a 24 hour mass meeting" at one minute after midnight, the union threatened.

If, the union ultimatum continued, the directive is not forthcoming by Monday midnight, it will ask Burbank, Cal., airplane workers, another vast center of warplane production, to "call a similar meeting." And if the directive doesn't come by Tuesday midnight, the ultimatum said, it will appeal to San Diego workers.

"If no action is forthcoming by Wednesday midnight," the resolution adopted at the mass meeting of the flying fortress workers, continued, "we will ask that our international union call a general meeting of all aircraft locals."

In Washington, George W. Taylor, vice chairman of the war labor board, said it planned to decide the issue of aircraft wages this week. He wouldn't say if the ultimatum would speed board action. Other members of the board wouldn't comment.

The Aeronautical Mechanics union filed a suit in federal court in an effort to force the war labor

DOUBT VALIDITY

Nevadans Say Marriages of 175,000 Couples 'Illegal.'

CARSON CITY, Nev.—(U.P.)—An estimated 175,000 husbands and wives, including many New York and Hollywood millionaires who came to Nevada seeking martial bliss instead of divorce, may find they are not legally married.

The legality of the marriages was questioned in a bill relating to marriage and divorce," being presented to the current Nevada legislature to right the situation.

Authors of the bill, Senator A. J. Haight of Churchill county and Assemblyman C. C. Boak of Nye county, said that in 1937, the legislature apparently deprived justices of the peace and clergymen of legal authority to perform marriages.

"They are at least common law marriages and perfectly legal," an assemblyman who didn't want to be quoted commented.

State 'Fiddles' Over Shortage of Liquor as Irate Mansfielders Heap Abuse on Stores

Mansfielders are burning while Columbus fiddles.

The Mansfielders in question are those who would like to be able to buy a bottle of liquor now and then. The people who are doing the fiddling—and apparently little else—are the officials of the state liquor department in Columbus.

Yesterday Mansfielders stood in line, with the temperature below freezing, wailing their turn to get into the state liquor store on South Park street.

Inside, store employes were posting the few brand names of the liquor available. They opened the door and let some customers in, then shut it. Soon, they halted sales until a later but unspecified hour, in order to make the liquor go as far as possible and make it available to as many people as possible.

They've been doing that for weeks. They've been taking a lot of abuse for it, too.

The system, they admit, is their own. They don't claim it's the best system in the world, or even good. But they do claim for it certain advantages over opening the doors of the store and leaving them open until every bottle in stock is gone.

Although they won't so (possibly because they may be condemned by the liquor department) there is a strong indication that store employes—and most Mansfielders as well—favor a set of rules and regulations from the office of the state liquor director, Don A. Fisher, setting up a rationing system for liquor.

Not getting it—and not getting any indication that anything at all will be done from that source—they've improvised a sort of system, admittedly imperfect, of their own.

Frank C. Poling, manager of the South Park street liquor store since the monopoly system was inaugurated in Ohio, said today he was "just about ready to give up" trying to dispense the scant stocks Mansfield has been getting in an equitable manner.

He explained at length why he has been doing as he has—and the gist of his story is simply that he's trying to keep liquor out of the hands of potential bootleggers, and give reputable citizens an even chance to get their share of it.

Poling said he would welcome any suggestions from the public as to a better way to meet the problem, and offered a few figures that give a pretty clear idea of what he is up against.

In the last two weeks, he said, the South Park street store has received 90 cases of liquor a week. Some have been cases of fifths, and some have been pints.

But, assuming that all were cases of fifths, that meant that the store had only 1,080 bottles of liquor to distribute among about 40,000 potential consumers per week, which means that one person in 37 would get a bottle.

To add to the problem, Poling estimated that about 5 per cent of the patrons seeking to buy liquor were persons from out of town — perhaps salesmen from cities up against the same liquor scarcity problem, who hoped they might find the Mansfield store fairly well supplied.

Poling, pointing out that he couldn't refuse to sell to anyone when the store had liquor, said that he had explained the Mansfield problem to some of these customers and had sought to dissuade them from making their purchases here. Some, he said, complied with his request.

Last November, Jacob B. Taylor, then state liquor director, promised that a rationing system would be set up in Ohio soon after the first of the year.

But Taylor was called to the army, and Director Don A. Fisher, who succeeded him, has had little to say about rationing. He has attempted to explain why the shortage in liquor existed, but has offered no solution to the problem of equitable distribution.

Gov. John W. Bricker also has maintained complete silence regarding the situation.

Meanwhile, hoarders (and probably bootleggers) have gathered in much of the liquor that has been available.

Because of that and the fact that no relief has been forthcoming from the state's executives in charge of the system, Mansfielders have stood in the cold in lines in front of liquor stores.

Incidentally, anyone seeking official information on the subject from the office of State Liquor Di-

Line-ups such as this one—in front of the South Park street state liquor store yesterday afternoon—are common occurrences in state liquor stores throughout the state, while store employes do their best to make scant stocks last as long as possible, while the state liquor department makes no effort to solve a problem that grows constantly more complicated.

RATION BOOK SUPPLY GONE; MORE COMING

2,500 More Being Rushed To City From Dover as Big Day Exhausts Stock.

NEW RUSH EXPECTED

13,759 Mansfielders Enroll on Third Day; County to Have Enough Books.

With Mansfield's supply of War Ration Books No. 2 not sufficient to last until the close of the registration period at 5 p. m. today, school officials were awaiting this afternoon the arrival of an OPA representative who telephoned from Dover this morning that he was en route here with an additional 2,500 books.

Yesterday's registration, when 13,759 books were issued, was by far the heaviest of the week with this afternoon expected to bring another rush.

Ration Chairman C. C. Beelman said 2,000 of the additional 6,000 books he ordered three weeks ago arrived yesterday to provide only a minimum number for this afternoon's registrations. Woodland school ran completely out of the books yesterday, he said, being required to turn away some applicants.

County Superintendent Boyd Robinson said no extra books were available at county registration places but that he believed the number on hand would be sufficient. Shelby had no surplus, they reported. After a check of 10 surrounding counties revealed no extra books, an urgent request was booked in the Cleveland OPA office.

Attaches of the Cleveland office, Beelman said, contacted all boards last night in an attempt to locate enough extra books to tide over Richland county, and a few other counties of the state, where there were shortages. Miami county reported need for 100,000 books.

Ration officials concluded three weeks ago, Beelman said, that the estimated 60,000 books would not be sufficient for Richland county and immediately ordered 6,000 additional books. Even the 66,000 figure will be surpassed, he believes, before the registration is complete.

Of his order for 60,000 "consumer's declaration" forms, only 5,000 were sent, Beelman said, with the board required to have

Allies Advance As Foe Falls Back on Gafsa

Defeated Germans Retreat as Yanks, British Strike Ahead 10 Miles In Sbiba Area; Rommel Suffers Heavy Losses From Bombings.

(By Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA—Allied troops, pushing their counter-offensive in central Tunisia, have recaptured Kasserine Pass and the high ground on both sides and, following up Marshal Erwin Rommel's withdrawal also have advanced 10 to 15 miles in the Sbiba area to the northeast, an Allied headquarters communique announced today.

The Germans, defeated in their offensive which had carried them 66 miles from Faid Pass almost to the Algerian border, appeared to be falling back toward Gafsa as Gen. Sir Harold Alexander's Britons and Americans seized the initiative.

Gafsa is 75 miles southeast of the farthest point reached by Rommel's armored columns, which had surged to within three miles of Thala.

American doughboys and British Tommies drove up the mountains on each side of Kasserine Pass yesterday afternoon and pushed the Germans into the flat plateau beyond while American and British tanks roared through the gap on the heels of the Axis troops.

At the same time British forces to the northeast bore down on the flank from the Sbiba mountain area and advanced to within nine miles of Sbeitla. Here, too, the Germans were in flight.

Sbiba is 33 miles northeast of Kasserine and 30 miles north of Sbeitla, one of the towns through which Rommel passed on his way from Faid Pass toward Kasserine.

At the same time, the communique said, Allied forces made a successful raid farther to the northeast in the Bou Arada area, capturing prisoners and inflicting casualties.

British and American troops pressing close on the heels of the retreating Germans, kept contact with them throughout the day yesterday, despite thickly sown minefields, the communique said, while Allied air forces bombed Gafsa to the south, Mareth line fortifications, the northern naval base of Bizerte and ranged the whole battle zone.

"Kasserine Pass is now in our hands," the communique said, "British and American infantry, supported by tanks, successfully attacked enemy rear guards and forced the withdrawal of all enemy forces still in the pass."

The high ground both to the northeast and southwest of the pass was captured by the advancing Allied forces, the communique said.

As the Germans withdrew they mined the roads heavily in an effort to delay pursuit.

Kasserine Pass, the gateway by which Rommel had sought to drive into northern high plains whence he could strike at vital Allied communications, was cleared of the

URGES SUPPORT FOR SOIL PLAN

Fish and Game Association Backs Farm Conservation Up For Vote Tomorrow.

Urging Richland county farmers to vote Saturday in the conservation district referendum, the Richland County Fish and Game Protective association today gave its support to the soil conservation plan.

County farm owners will ballot on the establishing of a conservation district from 2 to 9 p. m. tomorrow at four voting places in the county.

Pointing out that the conservation plan is not an AAA project but a state-sponsored program, Gordon Ensminger, chairman of the sportsmen-farmer group, said the plan will help both the farmer and sportsman.

"Only by building fertile soil can we have profitable farming and abundant wildlife," Ensminger said.

"This program will not increase the farmer's taxes and it will not be thrust upon him unless he wants its help," he continued. "After the district is set up, the actual operation of it

Two Fliers Saved From Sea by Eyes Of Ship's Lookout

WITH THE ATLANTIC FLEET, Feb. 14—(Delayed) (AP)—A keen-eyed warship lookout was credited today with saving Lt. (jg) J. J. Frazier, 23, of Bridgeton, N. J., and Second Class Radioman R. J. Smith, 24, of Sandusky, O., after the pair was forced down at sea in a tiny plane.

The pilot and radioman, catapulted from an Atlantic fleet warship yesterday forenoon on a routine anti-submarine patrol, came down after losing sight of their ship and floated for 28 hours in choppy sea. Both were seasick and fatigued when picked up but otherwise in good health.

After being given up for lost, except for the possibility that they might make land 300 miles away, the plane was sighted by First Class Seaman Lawrence Ellis, 19, of Frankfort, Ky., 10¼ miles from the warship.

Ellis, serving as a battle lookout, probably would not have seen the craft had it been a little farther

Three 'Boy Bandits' Escape While Awaiting Court Action

Fearing commitment to a correctional school, three boys involved in two filling station robbery investigation and previous offenses, escaped from juvenile court authorities late yesterday while Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer was questioning a fourth member of the "gang" in an adjoining room.

After a night long police search a "posse" led by Captain Paul Whipp captured the little fugitives in the postoffice where, a citizen had told police, they were attempting to open lockboxes. According to police the leader of the "gang" said they were seeking enough funds to carry them to California.

The two youngsters involved in the investigation who refrained from joining the freedom dash yesterday are being detained until Sunday at the Salvation Army citadel while a sixth boy was returned to his parents when authorities decided he had no part in the robbery Wednesday of a filling station at Second and Mulberry streets and a later foray on a station at Mt. Vernon.

Captain Jesse Schwab and Patrolman Earl Korn trapped four of the boys in a downtown hotel room Wednesday night while they were splitting the spoils of the two robberies.

Two of the boys, 12 and 11, are brothers and had been involved in three store pilferings previous to Wednesday's operations. Judge Stuart has conferred with their parents who reported that neither kindness or drastic "woodshed" treatment resulted in cures.

Wednesday's robberies netted $8.75 at the station here and $25 at Mt. Vernon. Police recovered about half of the cash and a quantity of smoking material.

SEEK 'RICK'

Ohio Legislature Ready To Invite Flier to Speak.

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Swift house concurrence was expected today in a joint resolution introduced and passed by the senate which would invite Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, famed World War I flying ace and hero of a recent South Pacific saga, to address the Ohio legislature on progress of the war effort.

The resolution, introduced in the senate by Sen. Albert Daniels (R., Greenfield) and adopted there by a unanimous, 21-0 vote, would bring the native of Columbus back to his own state for the first time since his bomber was forced down in the Pacific and he survived after being given up for lost.

DEFENSE HEADS GO 'ON CARPET'

They'll Be Told to 'Get on the Ball' at Parley Set For Today.

Leaders of the various war protection units of Mansfield's civilian defense organization this afternoon will be told they must "get on the ball" when Judge G. E. Kalbfliesch, defense coordinator, issues operational instructions and names a "defense commander" who will actively direct protection programs.

Meeting at 4 p. m. in defense headquarters on the third floor of City Hall, will be chiefs of the police and fire auxiliaries, industrial and commercial blackout committeemen, chiefs of war services, public works and public utilities group leaders, air raid wardens and all others occupying executive, administrative or operational functions.

Mayor W. J. Locke, who last week became chairman of the Office of Civilian Defense, will preside. Coordinator Kalbfleisch turned over the executive duties of the defense organization to Locke last week to avoid confusion with his

Employes of O. P. S. Celebrate 2 Years Of 'No Accidents'

Ohio Public Service employes of the Mansfield division, 150 strong, celebrated more than two years of operation without a single lost-time accident at a dinner last night at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

The division record began on Sept. 7, 1940. Up to today, the division hasn't experienced a single accident in which an employe was kept off his job. As of Feb. 7, 1942, employes had worked 872,068 man-hours without an accident blemish on their record.

Commendatory remarks on their accomplishment came from company officials, who urged the utility's employes to carry on in the same manner for three, four, five and even more years.

Manpower Shortage Hits Corn Crop; Call Sounded for Help

The manpower shortage and severe weather have left approximately 8,500 acres of Richland county corn, or one-fourth of the 1942 crop, unharvested and about 780 acres of soybeans still in the fields, Howard Stone, member of the county war board, told the Ohio War board yesterday at a meeting in Columbus.

Meanwhile, a three-point program for harvesting the left-over crops was outlined at the state session. It calls for the use of high school boys, labor from state institutions, and employes of city and village business places. It also was suggested that old-age pensioners might be able to help with lighter work on a part-time basis.

Stone said he based his estimate on figures provided by farmers and compiled by the county Triple-A office. He attended the state meeting in the absence of Guy L. Taylor, county war board chairman, who is confined to his home because of injuries he suffered early this week in a farm accident.

"There is usually some corn left in the fields at this time of the

'WORK OR FIGHT'

House Panel Approves Bill To Curb Absenteeism.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The house rules committee cleared the way for action next week on a bill to curb absenteeism through "work or fight" legislation.

In the form of a rider to a minor naval personnel bill, the measure would require all navy yards to turn over to local selective service boards every three months the names of all employes who have been absent from work without justification.

Urging support for the legislation, Rep. Lyndon Johnson (D., Tex.) asserted that "absenteeism sank 42 Liberty ships in December alone." "I mean by that," he explained, "the man hours lost through absenteeism would have produced that many ships.

"The German subs couldn't get but 31 in that month," he said.

FOLLOW-UP: U. S. Planes Roar To Attack Over North Germany

(By International News Service)

LONDON—America's feared Flying Fortresses carried out another daylight raid on northern Germany today following the smashing attack of the Royal Air Force last night on the historic Bavarian city of Nuremberg.

The Flying Fortress raid climaxed a series of aerial assaults against Axis objectives in Europe which started last night and continued without a let-up long after daylight today.

Nuremberg, one of the most important industrial centers in northern Germany, was the chief target of night assaults against the reich. Objectives in western Germany also were blasted.

The widespread RAF operations included the planting of mines in enemy-controlled waters.

Nine bombers were lost in the attack on Germany.

Nuremberg, second largest city in Bavaria and first in industrial importance, is about 450 air miles from London. Chief manufacturing plants include factories producing motors and electric appliances. Vital submarine mechanisms are built there.

Traditional meeting place of the Nazi party in pre-war days, Nuremberg is noted for its fine old churches and numerous other notable buildings, including a famous museum.

It was the fifth attack by air against Nuremberg which was last raided in August, 1942.

Among Nuremberg's engineering factories are submarine Diesel engine plants. The city also is an important rail junction.

Considerable air activity had been reported over Switzerland and it was thought that a raid might be in progress against northern Italy. The Germans sometimes ferry transport planes over the Alps and this may be the explanation for the presence

PREPARING: M'Arthur Getting Ready for Attack on Salamaua

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—American fliers, continuing their stepped up aerial offensive against the Japanese, again attacked Kiska in the Aleutians and three enemy bases in the Solomons, the navy announced today.

(By Associated Press)

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's American and Australian troops were reported clearing the way for a climactic offensive against the big Japanese base at Salamaua in New Guinea today while low-flying Allied attack planes bombed and machine-gunned towns and trails in the Mubo region 12 miles below Salamaua.

In the skies, United Nations airmen blasted the Japanese shipping center at Rabaul, New Britain, for the fourth night in a row.

Ranging over the searchlight-flooded harbor for two hours, Allied fliers scored four hits on an 8,000-ton vessel, believed to be a seaplane tender, and saw bombs explode near three cargo ships.

On the Burma front, RAF planes flying from India carried on their steady offensive against the Japanese, shooting up enemy river craft, railway trains and towns.

Fresh reports on the Japanese attempt to raid U. S. air bases yesterday in Assam, India, disclosed American fighters probably destroyed 29 planes and only nine of the total 46 enemy aircraft were sighted heading back for home.

American planes also ranged over Burma destroying a Japa-

"The Authority on Authorities"

USE YOUR HONOR FIRST

When your partner's suit is already partly set up, and continuance of it seems to be the best defense against a hostile No Trump game, your assignment is twofold. First, you are to help him clear the suit as soon as possible, by doing whatever you can to knock out the declarer's stoppers in it. Second, you are to protect his re-entry or re-entries, to see that the declarer does not remove his chance to gain the lead after his suit is established.

South let the diamond Q hold the opening trick and won the diamond 10 with the dummy's K. With eight tricks sure in spades, hearts and diamonds, he had to get al least one in clubs to make his game, and so led the 5 from dummy. This was to tempt East —one of those who act largely by rule—to play "second hand low." If he had led the Q from dummy, he could have felt sure that East would "cover an honor with an honor."

Sure enough, East did play low, and the 10 went to the A. West's hand was deader than a doornail now, but he nevertheless led his diamond J to the A. Now South sent a second club out, which East won with the K. Having no more diamonds, he returned the heart 3. Consequently South scored three tricks in clubs, two in diamonds, three in hearts and three in spades, making two extra tricks.

Following basic principles of defense, East should have put his K on the first club lead and fired back his last diamond. That would have knocked out South's last stopper. When South then led clubs a second time, West would have won after his diamonds were set up, and could have cashed the two tricks which would have beaten the declarer by one.

Club Marks First Birthday

The Health for Victory movement, originated at the Westinghouse plant here to help housewives of war workers plan health-building meals, yesterday observed its first birthday and its adoption by more than 300 war plants. At the Mansfield anniversary observance, eggless and butterless wartime cakes were given to members of the nation's first Health for Victory club. Mrs. Julia Kiene, manager of the Westinghouse Defense Nutrition and Home Economics department, is shown holding the basket from which names were drawn.

* * * * *

'Health for Victory' Club Plans Wartime Menus

WITH the advent of the rationing program, and numerous other wartime measures pending, which will affect homemakers, Mrs. Julia Kiene, manager of the Westinghouse Home Economics department, advised members of the Health for Victory club that complete reorganization of home management will be the American housewife's solution.

This suggestion was made at the meeting Thursday in the Westinghouse auditorium, which marked the beginning of the second year of the Health for Victory club.

Mrs. Kiene conceived the idea of such an organization one day in February, 1942, when she saw a young factory worker and his wife buy $10.72 worth of food in a grocery store, but according to Mrs. Kiene, "the only fresh foods they ordered were 78 cents worth of meat, six lemons, six oranges and a head of lettuce."

"It occurred to me that we housewives had a very important job to do in the nation's war effort —safeguarding workers' health by buying and serving the foods that make up well-balanced meals," Mrs. Kiene said in recalling the organization of the club.

Government statistics on food deficiencies and illnesses due to improper diets had convinced Mrs. Kiene of the need for action on the part of housewives. A definite plan developed in her mind when she saw the young couple buying food but not health.

So the Westinghouse Home Economics manager invited homemakers of men working at the company's Mansfield plant to attend the charter meeting of an organization which she decided to call the Health for Victory club. Exactly 374 women turned out. A month later the membership jumped to more than 400, and 30 days later the attendance neared the 600-mark. In the next few months Health for Victory clubs were organized at other Westinghouse plants throughout the nation.

At Thursday's meeting, Mrs. Kiene advised members of the Mansfield organization "to make a complete shopping list, and do all your marketing one day a week. Try to pick a day in the middle of the week; your grocer and butcher will not be so busy, and you'll save time and get better service," she said.

Mrs. Kiene pointed out that careful planning of household activities in Mansfield and throughout the nation will be essential "because in 1943 many of the women who formerly made housekeeping their full-time job will shoulder the added responsibility of working at either a civilian or a war plant job."

Manpower Director Paul V. McNutt recently predicted that in the present year six million women will hold war production jobs, 13 million will occupy civilian positions and 23 million will devote full time to managing their homes.

"Most of the women holding jobs will continue cooking meals and doing the many other tasks that go with running a home—a condition that will create many new problems," Mrs. Kiene said.

The Westinghouse nutrition expert said one thing to aid all women is the planning of meals that can be partly prepared the day before serving.

To enable the Health for Victory mothers to bring their children to the meeting Westinghouse Thursday inaugurated a nursery directed by Mrs. W. J. Robbins and Miss Lillian Heffelfinger, a nurse in the company's medical department.

Drawings for food prizes were won by Mrs. L. E. Heller, Mrs. Joe Foncannon, Mrs. Marvin Knapp, Mrs. M. C. Yerigan, Mrs. Lester Lown, Mrs. John C. Lorentz, Mrs. Fred Alacca, Mrs. Laurel Wallace and Mrs. Charles Snyder.

CLASS HOLDS MEETING

Mrs. Gertie Kettering and Mrs. Allen Brennstuhl were co-hostesses Wednesday evening when the Gleaners class of the Baptist church held their regular meeting in the church basement. Mrs. C. W. Weirick conducted the devotionals. The president, Mrs. Kettering, presided over the business meeting. During the social hour the group pieced patches for a comfort top. Mrs. Daniel Webster was in charge of the quiz contests. A poem "Your Flag And My Flag" was given by Mrs. Kettering. At the close of the evening the hostesses served refreshments.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Hattie Eberts, son George, Mrs. William Eberts and Mrs. Gertie Kettering, visited Wednesday in Mansfield.

The Sunshine Circle of the Baptist Sunday school met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Edith Hoyte, with Mrs. W. A. Bunting co-hostess, the former was in charge of the devotionals. A book review on "Russia" was given by Mrs. Martha Whitney. In contests prizes were awarded to Mrs. R. H. Priest and Miss Della Zimmerman.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

Mary's voice was like a bell pealing forth triumph and confidence. For a moment the strength of his emotion held Noel silent, then he said huskily, over and over, "Mary, Mary, Mary!" Just her name nothing else; but it expressed a world of adoration and joyous relief over what she had just said.

Then my mental barometer hit nadir as I heard his voice, calmer now, yet obstinate.

"But, my darling, what you have just told me is all the more reason why I should protect you against yourself. You must not give up your role. You have made me gloriously happy, and I must not let you outdo me in generosity. I must insist that you go on with your role."

Mary, quick-witted as she is impulsive, stopped backward, as I knew by the sound, pulling Noel with her, then spoke soothing accents as if to a child.

"Noel, darling, please listen to me. I am not giving up the role because of generosity to you. I'm doing it, first, because in that way I'll help keep Steve Redfield where Grandpa Spencer can keep track of him; second, because I can't bear to have Steve within a mile of me for another minute; third, because, sweetheart, I'm so tired sometimes after a performance that it seems to me I never could draw a breath again."

Her voice dropped to a pathetic whisper, while I wondered how much of her plaint was real, and how much superb acting. But whichever it was, Noel reacted to it instantly.

"Mary!" His voice was almost a shout. "Why haven't you told me?"

"Why should I trouble you, darling?" she asked. "There wasn't anything you could do except worry about me, and 'the play must go on,' you know."

"That saying is the most awful bilge that ever was uttered. "Noel exclaimed hotly.

"A good many people have been crucified because of their belief in it," Mary said, and I remembered Nancy Carew's admiring comment, "What a trouper she is!" which I had repeated to Mary, because I know she would cherish such a tribute from one of the grandest old troupers of them all.

"But," Mary rushed on, "when my producer, who happens to be your father, and the government as personified by Grandpa Spencer, together issue an edict that I am to leave the cast for a few nights, do you blame me for yielding, knowing what a glorious rest I'm going to have?

"And a pretended accident will make it simply perfect," she added. "Dr. Twitchell will forbid visitors, and Aunt Katharine, pretending to nurse me, will manage the family.

"Don't you see, Noel, what a marvelous, quiet time we're going to have together? It will be like a second honeymoon. Unless," she finished slyly, "you'd be bored, perhaps?"

It sounded as if her last words were smothered with a kiss, then I heard Noel's voice.

"Bored," he echoed scornfully, "by having you all to myself? I ought to smack you for saying anything like that."

"It will be a lot nicer if you'll kiss me instead," Mary retorted audaciously, "and tell me you'll play along with this scheme of Grandpa Spencer's."

"I'll do both," Noel said, and I heard him suit the action to the word. "Don't you know all I ever desire is to see that your wishes are fulfilled?"

"Spoken like a true and faithful knight," Mary said, and from the nuance in her voice I knew that her innate lightheartedness was edging out sentiment. She once told me she could "stand being mushy just so long." I knew she had reached that limit when I heard her in a second as she exclaimed, with undertones of surprise and mirth:

"Auntie Madge! I had forgotten you were here. Look, Noel: We've had an audience!"

HOROSCOPE

Saturday, February 27.

Judging by the predominant lunar transits this should be a day of probably dramatic and eventful activities. Anything might happen under this stirring vibration. There is likely to be a sudden upheaval or uprooting from old lines, projects, places and people; novel ideas and ventures though under certain tokens of secrecy and reservation. The accent may be on love, romantic, social or artistic interests.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a happy and harmonious state of affairs, although there may be sudden changes, upheavals and dramatic developments. Make the most of the happier thrilling and exceptional climax, fostered by grace, charm, magnetism and highly stimulated cultural and romantic urges.

A child born on this day may be blessed with many graces, talents and charms, bespeaking a romantic but not entirely blissful life.

CHAPTER II

They were in Sloppy Joe's again at four o'clock in the morning and the ship sailed promptly at five. Forever after to Carol the famous bar was a place of high stools and champagne and photographers taking your picture and people- so many people you felt you could stir them with a stick. Holding a cold glass she thought, "I could do it this way. One cruise after another and live with my eyes and my senses. Be an anonymous woman. But there would always have to be the past port and the ship going back to New York."

Mr. Weger joined her, his face beaming.

"Having a good time, honey? Let's miss the boat. Let's all miss the boat!"

A chorus went up and a dozen or more people, their faces tired and strained from pleasure, surrounded them. But only one face was distinct, the face of a strange man whose eyes looked through things. Even in the noise and confusion and hilarity, she was conscious of someone sharply alive, smiling as though he approved only of himself and her and thought the others ridiculous, bouncing puppets.

Presently the chauffeur of the big touring car which Mr. Weger had hired that morning, appeared at the door, glowing, pointing to his watch. Wraps were snatched, bills were paid and several cars waited outside to receive them and to expel them, some minutes later, at the dock.

Stepping from the car, Carol saw this strange man again in the half light. Smiling at her, a mocking, challenging smile as though first to warn her, he came closer, picked her up to the delighted squeals of the other passengers, carried her toward the gangplank. Shocked, embarrassed, angry, she checked her reproaches, knowing that her ship acquaintances would be even more delighted if she made a scene and demanded to be put down.

"To see that you don't miss the ship," he said. His voice was deep and rich, "If you did, we'd never know each other."

"You're new, aren't you?"

"I've been on the ship three days."

"I haven't seen you."

She felt his deep chuckle.

"I know. That's just the trouble. You haven't seen me. Well, here we are."

At the gangplank he put her down gently and she went quickly on board, not glancing back, knowing if she did she probably would see Mr. Weger without his smile. Hurrying along the deck, she heard only the sound of her tall silver heels and silly, drunken laughter.

The lights of Havana at night seen from the deck of a departing ship are like a diamond necklace on black velvet.

The scene from the porthole drove Carol from her cabin to a better view from the deck. She came out quietly, hoping not to encounter anyone, and found a dark place. There would be the natural sorrow of farewell to a gay, hospitable city even if there were no sorrow in anything else, she thought, feeling the ship move and feeling again the sea air cool and moisten her face. But now she was too tired to think of anything except to wish to dissolve into sleep and to pull darkness like a blanket over her mind.

Presently she thought, "It's because I'm tired that I want to cry again." And when the tears came she stood, as she had stood the first night, and let the weeping end before she turned her face away from the sea. If only she could turn off the camera in her mind, showing pictures of things past and things to come . . . Bill . . . Bill and Carol . . . Bill and Evelyn . . . Waves of memories washed over her. It was at such moments that she wished passionately to

...M THE CAPITAL-- By Raymond Clapper

...HINGTON It is inevitable that congress, ...fter a long period of domination by the ...nt, should take advantage of a reaction to ...t itself.

...the danger of this becoming destructive to ...al government activities is imminent, so ...so that more level-headed Republicans them- ...are alarmed. That is why Republicans like Senator Taft of Ohio and Senator Aiken of Vermont are publicly warning their colleagues to use discrimination and not to run wild.

...lapper

One of the most alarming proposals, and one with a good chance of passing, is that of Senator McKellar to require some 33,000 government employes to be voted on by the senate That would even include some of the higher-paid technical men in the navy yards ...overnment arsenals, although the senate ...ry committee favors exempting them. The ...al is that all government employes receiving ...or more a year be confirmed by the senate. ...r McKellar wanted to include all receiving ...a year, which would have covered 70,000 ...es, but was unable to get enough support ...e it stick.

...ponents of this measure call it a patronage ... Those supporting it say it is a purely con- ...nal measure. Both are correct.

...proposition would mean that many thou- ...of professional and administrative employes ...government would have to become tied in ...nators. To be appointed, or to be promoted ...1500 places, it would be necessary to obtain ...proval of senators.

Perhaps some senators would be too busy to bother to use this new power. Those who wished to, however, could use this power to strengthen fences back home, as many senators have always done with numerous jobs such as internal-revenue collector, district attorney, and marshal. To apply the rule of senate confirmation to 30,000 government employes would give senators a good many more pipelines into executive offices and more leverage on the executive agencies whereas any such leverage should be confined to the higher policy-making officials.

The McKellar bill is an example of the extreme reaction against the "bureaucrats" and against presidential power. The administration has invited this kind of retaliation by several years of indifference to congress, and by numerous political appointments which congress regards as having been made strictly for political reasons—such as the attempt to make Edward J. Flynn minister to Australia. Senators and representatives feel they are given scant consideration in many executive offices.

Yet it is not justifiable retaliation to fix it so that the only road to advancement, once a government employe is up near $4500 a year, is through the door of a senator's office.

The undesirability of the measure is indicated by the fact that even the Republican leader of the senate, Charles McNary, opposes it as an unwise assumption of power by the senate. He says that if the senate assumes to approve these thousands of administrative employes, then it will be assuming responsibility for the conduct of the agencies in which they work, and that the senate is in no position to assume such responsibility. Senator McNary seems to be trying to prevent the senate from doing a foolish thing.

CHARGES OPA CAUSES WORST BLACK MARKET

House Committee Declares Price Squeeze Driving Packers to Close.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON The house small business committee today blamed Office of Price Administration regulations for causing the worst "black market" in history—one which "subjects the population to the risk of eating diseased meat."

In a report on the meat packing situation, the committee charged that OPA and Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard have adequate legislative authority to correct the maladjustment and injustice now in the meat industry, "but they have not worked in close cooperation and have differed on important questions of policy."

The report came amid increasing indications that meat supplies will be too small to permit a ration of 35 ounces per person per week when rationing starts about April 1 and coincident with a report by Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown that the "relatively few chiselers" operating on the black market "face an unpromising future."

The house small business committee charged that wholesale ceilings established by OPA have aggravated the natural meat shortage by putting a "squeeze" on the meat packers, which may drive one-third of them out of business.

"The record before the committee contains no satisfactory explanation of the long standing failure of the Office of Price Administration to accord to meat processors the fair and equitable margin required by the price control act," the committee said

Wickard told a press conference yesterday that slaughter supplies of meat have been "disappointingly small" in view of the record number of cattle and hogs raised last year. He said he would not "care to predict" that plans announced early this year to ration meat at 2½ pounds per person could be carried out.

At least three factors point to shorter than expected civilian meat supplies: (1) Military and lend-lease requirements are increasing; (2) Federally inspected slaughtering has been less than expected; and (3) Argentina, which ships meat to Britain, has had a short feed crop

Wickard said the black market slaughter must be halted soon if the ration allowance is to be as much as two pounds He estimated "leak" of meats, largely to black markets, at between 10 and 20 per cent of the total slaughter.

THREE SLAYERS ELECTROCUTED FOR 2 MURDERS

Killers of Woman Golfer and Her Mother Die in Chair at Kentucky Prison.

(By International News Service)

EDDYVILLE, Ky. — The three slayers of Marion Miley, famous woman golfer, and her mother, Mrs. Elsa Miley, were electrocuted early today in the Kentucky state prison at Eddyville.

A fourth man, condemned for another crime, went to death with them in the mass execution.

Those who died for Miley hold-up killings were:

Robert H. Anderson, 37, former Louisville night club operator and a one-time inmate of the state reformatory and also of the Atlanta federal penitentiary.

Thomas Penney, 33, also an ex-convict and a former Lexington, Ky., carpenter.

Raymond "Skeeter" Baxter, 28, greenskeeper at the fashionable Lexington Country club, where the shootings occurred.

The other man to go to the electric chair was Ernest Trent, who was convicted in Breathitt county for the murder of a constable, Hiram Smith.

Anderson battled in the courts to the very last to escape the death penalty and in a final statement this morning just before he was strapped in the chair again proclaimed his innocence.

"I am not guilty of the crime of which I have been accused," he declared dramatically.

He was the first to go. He was smoking as he was led to the chair and tossed away the cigaret as the death cap was being adjusted over his head

The current was switched on at 1 a. m., and he was given two shocks. He was pronounced dead at 1:10.

Jailers reported he savagely cursed Penney as he was being led from the cell block in death row, blaming Penney for repudiating at Anderson's hearing for a new trial an earlier statement by Penney that he had implicated Anderson because he was "sore" at him.

"If I ever get to Heaven, it will be without forgiving you," he told Penney.

Miss Miley and her mother were fatally shot Sept 28, 1941, in their apartment at the exclusive Lexington Country club where the younger woman, one of the great golfers of her sex, was golf instructor and her mother was club manager.

...AIR ENOUGH-- By Westbrook Pegler

...YORK--Those two foul racketeers, Willie ...off and George Browne, late bosses of the ...of stage and movie employes of the American ...tion of Labor, have been brought back to ...York from wherever they were imprisoned ...iably Leavenworth, and are comfortably ...away in a place of detention.

...re is a possibility that if certain develop- ments come to pass they will be given a discount on their prison terms of 10 and eight years, respectively. That would be regrettable, for they were hard to catch and convict of extortion and they fought every inch of the way with the active assistance of many professional unioneers, and the cause of the workers and clean unionism got no help from the AFL.

...egler

However, if they do win a release, so to speak, from the court sent them away the people, the workers ...ionism might be the gainers because, in the ...me, revelations will be made in court which ...clean up the incredibly corrupt condition ...federation in Chicago, where, as all the executives of federation and CIO unionism the criminal underworld has dominated and ...on labor for many years.

...ff, an old member of the Capone mob, and ...me the proprietor of a brothel, and Browne ...a position to tell who got the money out ...r enormous racket and the inducement of ...ff their sentences in return for their testi- ...may be regarded as a fair, practical trade. ...courts and the law have taken that view ...by other cases, and for that matter Joe ...k, the movie producer, the man who squealed ...n, was forgiven a three-year sentence for a ...ud and given a vacation of about five months ...minimum security prison at Danbury, Conn., ...ward for his help. He was a slippery and ingratiating crook who should have had to serve his full time the hard way but the law has a practice of turning loose a little one who helps to bring in a bigger one.

There is absolutely no hope of reform and a revival of honor, idealism and decency from within the AFL but the development in the federal court in New York concerning the Chicago situation might cause a revolution of the rank and file and compel a clean-up. And, as the evidence develops it should be remembered that Joseph Padway, the general counsel of the AFL, was also general counsel for the Bioff and Browne racket, masquerading as a workers' union and operating under an AFL charter.

When racketeering first became a national scandal in the federation, William Green, the president, upheld Browne against the exploited rank and file of a St. Louis local and even appointed Browne to a committee to investigate racketeering. Moreover, instead of taking the initiative against crooks, Green denounced as enemies of American labor every reported who exposed any thief in his organization.

Padway repeatedly has had the effrontery to dictate to congress as a spokesman of American labor, although he holds no elective position in labor, and is just a small lawyer with an enormous income from various unions Only a few months ago he was sent to Great Britain on a mission from the American government as a labor spokesman

The background of Bioff and Browne is the darkest criminal underworld of the Chicago Capones. Unionism knows, and it probably will be shown in court, that Bioff and Browne were not independent racketeers but agents of the Chicago mob in unionism Their fabulous graft apparently did not stop with them.

There is a great job for clean, decent American unionism. Labor is in great danger of angry reactionary legislation and crooked unionism can do nothing to prevent it but a reform and purified labor movement might.

OPA RELEASES AUTOS FOR SALE

Entire Stock of Unsold Cars Goes on Market March 6 Under Ration Rules.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—It will be just a little easier henceforth to buy a new automobile.

The office of price administration eased the restrictions, effective March 6 and made the entire stock of unsold cars about 240,000 available for sale under rationing regulations

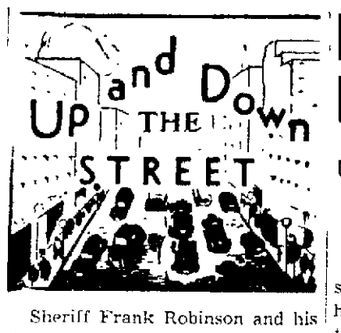
It said that the automobile rationing order had been "completely rewritten and simplified" to expand eligibility lists and to liberalize types and cars with list prices over $1,500.

The new order provides:

1. A "moderate enlargement" of those eligible to buy new cars to include persons whose present cars are no longer serviceable and who need replacements for purposes listed for "C" gasoline book holders.

2. A "greater expansion" in the list of persons eligible to buy convertibles and cars in the higher-price bracket to include those not having use of a "serviceable vehicle needed in any gainful occupation or work related to the war effort or public service."

3. "Ration free" purchase by anyone in the same classification of a 1941 model driven less than 1,000 miles (considered new) Dealers will be held responsible for securing information on the purchaser's qualifications.



Sheriff Frank Robinson and his five deputies last night became members of Richland lodge No. 32 Fraternal Order of Police, at initiation ceremonies in the police recreation rooms at City Hall during a session of the local chapter presided over by Plainclothesman Herbert G Palmer, president Routine police matters were discussed by the membership and President Palmer outlined plans dealing with associate membership affairs.

James Longsdorf, a Mansfield marine at Mare Island, Calif., is going to get a shaving and toilet set pretty soon in a round-about way from his two aunts in Mansfield. Recently, one of his aunts, Mrs. Helen Graves, who is employed by the H. L. Reed store, left the set on a counter at the store to be wrapped for mailing. Longsdorf's name and address were in the package. By mistake, a shopper from Mt. Vernon picked up the package and took it home. When she discovered the error, she wrapped the set and mailed it to California with an explanation. Now she hopes the two aunts in Mansfield, Mrs. Graves and Miss Mae Longsdorf, won't buy a second set and mail it before they hear of the mix-up.

Eight more volunteer workers were called for service at the ration board this morning after a "boom" day yesterday, occasioned by approximately 400 applications for War Ration Book 1 Deadline for issuance of the books was Jan. 15, with resumption after the registration for War Ration Book No. 2. Of this number, a great share were for babies whose arrival had been within the past 30-60 day period, office attaches said.

DEFENSE SCORES IN MIAMI TRIAL

Ursula Parrott's Attorney Gets Favorable Ruling as Case Opens.

MIAMI, Fla. - (INS) Having scored one important point in behalf of Ursula Parrott, noted author of best sellers, the defense proceeded today in its efforts to prove her innocent of aiding and concealing a deserter and impairing the loyalty and discipline of the army.

Miss Parrott is on trial before a male jury on a charge of aiding in the escape of Pvt Michael Neely Bryan from the Miami Beach army stockade where he was confined.

The government still was presenting its evidence but the defense fought at every step the admission of any testimony which might be damaging to the defendant.

Defense Attorney Bart A. Riley objected when Maj. Walter Danuser, officer in charge of the stockade, testified that Bryan had been confined for violation of a section of the articles of war which have to do with desertion.

Riley called attention to documentary exhibits from the prison showing that Bryan was confined, not for desertion, but for being absent without leave.

This halted the trial while Riley and Assistant U. S Attorney Ernest L. Duhaime argued the point. The jury which had been sent from the room, was ordered back and told by Federal Judge John W. Holland that he was upholding the defense contention

Defense Attorney Riley argued that since Bryan was not charged with being a deserter, certainly Miss Parrott could not be legally accused of aiding and harboring a deserter, as she is charged in two of the counts against her.

3 BURGLARIES

Thieves Break Into Home and Cafe; Automobile Looted.

Thieves last night escaped with a bowling ball, gun, flash light and cash in three burglaries reported to police this morning.

Mrs. W. D. Edmondson, 229 East First street, said that a prowler gained entrance to her home by breaking a cellar window and forcing the lock on a stairway door, taking a bowling ball and bag and a pair of shoes.

Phil Stirtzinger of the Fritz cafe, 194 North Main street, reported that after Charles Wagner locked up the establishment someone crawled through a rear transom and escaped with a gun, flashlight and $6 in pennies which were contained in rolls. Patrolmen John Steel and Don Mitchell investigated.

Bernard Graska, 344 Oak Hill road, chased a prowler at 3:30 a. m. today after discovering him ransacking his auto parked in front of the Graska home. The prowler had attempted to enter the house, but fled onto Daisy street. Graska told Patrolmen John Grohol and Carl Beard.

If you were a stranger in East Liverpool and didn't know a couple of high school teams were playing, you could have been excused for thinking the Canton McKinley Bulldogs were the New York Celtics, so many words of praise did the East Liverpool paper heap upon Coach Bup Rearick's bucket tossing phenoms.

Just to keep the record straight, the Canton McKinley Bulldogs, not the New York Celtics, will be playing Mansfield's Tygers tonight at the high school gym.

I hope the Tygers aren't frightened by the following excerpts from the East Liverpool story:

Living up to their flowery publicity Canton McKinley's Bulldogs playing in almost letter perfect fashion convincingly whipped East Liverpool's Potters 50 39

A team that resembled most collegiate outfits the Bulldogs awed the fans from the moment they galloped onto the floor until they walked to their dressing rooms after the final horn

The size of the squad was the first characteristic that caught the fancy of each spectator's eye Cursing a squad of 10 players Coach Bup Rearick had two-thirds of them standing well over the six foot mark

"And all were ruggedly built, their legs and arms thick and muscular like college gridders' limbs, rather than high school boys. They dwarfed the Potters.

"It was not only a hand some team but proved conclusively it was the best quintet that has performed on the Broadway floor this season by a country mile

"Obviously cramped by the size of the floor the McKinley five trailed the Potters throughout the first quarter and wasn't able to take command of the situation until five minutes of the second period had elapsed Once accustomed to the close quarters, the Bulldogs started rolling and nothing short of high water could have checked their victory parade

Fittie Parks massive colored center standing 6 feet 2 inches packed for the visitors with 18 points on seven baskets and four fouls Four of his goals came on teams as his rubber legs outjumped the Potters

Held scoreless until the final minute of the first half Canton's ace scorer Dale Haverstock one of the smoothest pieces of basketball machinery seen here in many seasons came back for a 12 point total two points under his season average His floor work was little short of spectacular

"The Bulldogs didn't blow a foul in 12 attempts each starter making at least two Parks got four for four

Bill Cook captain of the veteran team performed like a typical leader cool and steady but not flashy The rugged guard also had a good night in the scoring department netting two baskets and a pair of charity tosses for 12 points

Although they only talked eight points between them Earl Loucks and Vic Wernet rattled themselves like the veterans they are Loucks went out on personal fouls as the third quarter ended and his banishment broke up the smooth-working combination"

(Note to the Tygers Don't feel too badly about things It was the 11th defeat for East Liverpool)

Ohio State Looks for Kid Stars

High School Coaches Promise Grid Material.

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS (AP) If Ohio's high school Football Coaches association can hit the mark at which it is aiming you'll find plenty of 17-year old freshman talent on Ohio State University's 1943 varsity football team

M M (Mike) Hagley Columbus North Mentor and president of the Coaches association declared today

"Anytime the High School Coaches can do anything to help Ohio State you'll find us doing it It looks as if the Bucks will need players this fall, and our 384 members will see that they get 'em

I've asked all the High School Coaches who have 17-year old boys graduating this year to get in touch with me If the boys are interested in going to Ohio State and would like to go into one of the service groups there I'll be glad to furnish them with all the details"

Boys entering the reserve corps Hagley said probably would be assured at least one year of competition in football and perhaps two or three seasons

Enlistment in the reserve Hagley said is not a method of circumventing the draft By joining the reserve a boy renders plenty of service to help be trained for a commission and all branches of the armed forces need youthful well qualified officers"

Officials of the Ohio State University Athletic department (Coach Paul E Brown is busy with the chairmanship of Franklin county's Red Cross drive and was not available for comment) are enthused by the attitude of the High School Coaches

One assistant coach said that of 60 boys graduating at 17 from high schools in the Cleveland district 12 would make outstanding varsity material for the Bucks

Meanwhile Ohio State University's athletic director L W St John said today intercollegiate football should be considered a valuable asset to the government in wartime as a revenue raising agency

He reported Ohio State University football alone would contribute $1,810,971 to the Army and Navy Emergency Relief funds in other government coffers from 10 corps of games played last year

In addition the government collected $81,605 19 in admission taxes on Ohio State games last Fall

"In my mind" St John said "these figures demonstrate that intercollegiate football is a tremendous aid to the government during wartimes, not only as a physical fitness means but as one of the biggest revenue raising agencies

When one stops to figure that more than 100 schools play football throughout the United States it's easy to see where the government gains millions of dollars from admission tax alone

ROBINSON ATTEMPTS TO CLEAR RECORD

DETROIT—(UP)—In his last fight before donning an army uniform, Ray (Sugar) Robinson of New York attempts to clean his civilian slate tonight in a bout with Jake La Motta, only man to best him in 131 amateur and professional fights

Robinson, recognized as uncrowned king of the welterweights, ruled a 7 to 5 favorite over the New York middleweight Promoter Nick Londes predicted that a crowd of 19,000 would contribute a record gate of between $70,000 and $80,000 at Olympia stadium.

Barney Ross Comes Home

Keeps Vow By Kissing Good Old U. S. Soil.

SAN DIEGO Cal (AP) Barney Ross came home from Guadalcanal the way he usually left the ring on his own two feet and with the dramatic story of the tough est fight he ever slugged through

His fighting marine corporal he called the Ross of old as he stepped down the gangplank of a hospital ship yesterday There was the famous smile he showed in winning three boxing titles And the wave of hands as if to his fans at the fights

He was to put it mildly glad to be back in the U S A In fact he was bowled over He showed it by kneeling down solemnly and kissing the ground

"This" he said, "I vowed to do if ever I saw American soil again Sometimes out there we're not sure we shall"

Out there was the steaming blood-covered battlefield of Guadalcanal where the 32-year old Chicago marine won high praise of his company commander Capt O K LeBlanc of Abbeville La and recommendation for the Navy Cross or the Army Distinguished Service Cross

Ross acclaimed boxing's 'man of the year' was first off his ship Outwardly at least you couldn't tell he had been wounded He telephoned his wife Kaye in Hollywood and then an older brother in Chicago who was to let their aged mother know of his homecoming after months at the front

Capital Cops League Title

Muskies Beat Scots, Hand Lutherans Crown.

(By Associated Press)

Capital university's ace basketeers sported the Ohio conference crown today after Muskingum blasted Wooster's title hopes with a 59-45 victory

The Lutherans ended their season Wednesday atop the league standings with 10 victories and two defeats, then sat back and awaited developments.

The Muskies, who handed the Bexley school one of its two losses, capitalized on free throw opportunities, wrapped up the title and delivered it to the Lutherans The champs, who won 13 and lost two against all opposition, also were defeated by Ohio Northern

Wooster with seven wins and one loss before it met Muskingum, had a chance to take the title by winning its three remaining games and still is binding strongly for second place Baldwin Wallace with six victories two losses and three games to play also is in the running for second honors

Wittenberg edged Denison 65-61 in an Ohio conference tilt at Granville last night John Carroll swamped Fenn 72 to 31 at Cleveland in a non conference fray

Player Strength Almost Normal

CHICAGO—(AP)—Current spring training rosters show the least of the American League's worries this year is player shortage

Next month 247 men—only 19 less than last season—will report to spring training camps in the restricted war-time zones league records disclosed today The St Louis Browns' squad now numbers 36 whereas 35 were listed in 1942 The Detroit Tigers have boosted their roster to 39 largest in the league at present and six more than they carried last year

The New York Yankees, whose departure of stars has left serious infield and outfield problems, have only 27 players, one of their smallest groups in history The Boston Red Sox also plan to take 27 to camp, while the Philadelphia Athletics list only 26, the smallest squad in the league

Although several teams especially the Red Sox and Yanks will be pressed to develop players to replace mainstays the conclusion is that plenty of men will be available Observers conclude that a balance of talent heretofore lacking should produce a good pennant race Closeness of competition is expected to take up the slack in attendance which may result from loss of the fans favorite players

Biggest Basketball Week-End Scheduled

Tygers Meet Canton McKinley Tonight; County Tourney Resumed

BIGGEST week-end of the basketball season for Mansfield and Richland county scholastic fans opens tonight at Mansfield high gym where the largest crowd of the winter is expected to see the Tygers clash with a really top-notch Canton McKinley quintet

Tomorrow survivors in the Richland county tournament return to Mansfield high gym for semi-finals in the afternoon and championship play at night

Taking top billing in Canton McKinley's all-star troupe tonight will be Dale Haverstock tall forward, who earlier this week scored 20 points against Dover, boosted his season's total to 227, and broke the old McKinley all-time scoring record by 15 points

Every point he scores tonight will be a new record in the McKinley books

Right behind Haverstock as scoring threats will be colored Ernie Parks, regarded as the best all-around athlete in Canton schools, and Earl Loucks, who made a reputation as a high scorer a year ago at Cuyahoga Falls. Vic Wernet and Captain Bill Cook, guards, complete the all-veteran quintet.

Canton's imposing record which lists only two defeats, make McKinley the favorite tonight, but the Tygers, who have won eight of the last nine games are used to taking the underdog role, and winning anyhow If they can do that again tonight, they must be ranked as one of the currently top teams of the state

The two teams are scheduled at 8 15 with the Tyger reserves meeting a team from the high school shop at 7 o'clock Officials will be Paul Harlow of Newark, and Charles Cupp of Toledo

Remaining games of the Richland county tournament tomorrow afternoon and night promise to continue the thrillers with which the tourney opened on Monday.

Each of the four semi-finalists barely turned back closing threats of rival clubs in the preliminary round, Ontario edging Madison, Union nosing out Butler, Bellville turning back Plymouth, and Lucas winning over Lexington on a bucket in the last three seconds

That's the lineup for tomorrow's semi-final play, Ontario vs Union at 1 30 p m and Lucas vs Bellville at 2 30

Champion hip game will be tomorrow night at 9 o'clock with a consolation game on the card at 8

Billiards win In Overtime

Sferro Lunch Takes Tilt From Grocers.

Gaining a 6-4 margin in overtime play, Rex Billiards edged Hunt's News 41-39 in a senior league cage thriller at Friendly House last night

Billiards led 12-6 at the quarter, kept the margin at 19-13 at the half, and boosted it to 28-19 at the third quarter, but Hunts came charging back with a 16-7 advantage in the final period to tie it up at 35-35

Your Federal Income Tax

No. 47: LOSSES OF FARMERS

Losses incurred in the operation of farms as business enterprises are deductible from gross income. If farm products are held for favorable markets, no deduction on account of shrinkage in weight or physical value, or by reason of deterioration in storage, is allowed, except as such shrinkage may be reflected in an inventory if used in determining profits.

The destruction by frost, storm, flood, or fire of a prospective crop is not a deductible loss in computing income since it represents the loss of anticipated profits which have never been reported as income. Likewise, a farmer engaged in raising and selling livestock, such as cattle, sheep, and hogs, is not entitled to claim as a loss the value of animals that perish from among those animals that were raised on the farm, except as such loss is reflected in an inventory, if used. If livestock has been purchased for any purpose, and afterward dies from disease, exposure, or injury, or is killed by order of the authorities of a state or the United States, the actual purchase price of such livestock, less any depreciation allowable as a deduction in respect of such perished livestock, may be deducted as a loss if the loss is not compensated for by insurance or otherwise. The actual cost of other property (with proper adjustments for depreciation) which is destroyed by order of state or federal authorities may likewise be claimed as a loss.

If reimbursement is made by a state or the United States in whole or in part on account of stock killed or other property destroyed in respect of which a loss was claimed in a prior year, the amount received is required to be reported as income for the year in which reimbursement is made. The cost of any feed, pasture, or care which has been deducted as an expense of operation must not be included as part of the cost of the stock for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of a deductible loss.

If gross income is ascertained by the use of inventories, no deduction can be taken separately for livestock or products lost during the year, whether purchased for resale or produced on the farm, as such losses will be reflected in the inventory by reducing the amount of livestock or products on hand at the close of the year, which has the effect of reducing gross income from business by the amount of the loss.

If an individual owns and operates a farm in addition to being engaged in another trade or business or calling, and sustains a loss from the farming operations, such loss may be deducted from gross income received from all sources in determining the taxpayer's net income, provided such farm is not operated for recreation or pleasure.

If a farm is operated for recreation or pleasure and not on a commercial basis, and if the expenses incurred in connection therewith are in excess of the receipts therefrom the entire receipts from the sale of products may be ignored in rendering a return of income, and the expenses incurred, being regarded as personal expenses, will not constitute allowable deductions for federal income tax purposes.

ORDINANCE NO. 43-19

Adopting Eastern War Time as a standard of time for the conduct of municipal affairs between the third Sunday in February and the last Sunday in September and adopting Eastern Standard Time as a standard of time for the conduct of municipal affairs between the last Sunday in September and the third Sunday in February and declaring an emergency.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MANSFIELD, STATE OF OHIO

Section 1. That as a standard of time for the conduct of municipal affairs in the City of Mansfield between 2:00 o'clock A. M. on the third Sunday in February and 2:00 o'clock A. M. on the last Sunday in September, Eastern War Time to-wit: The mean astronomical time of the sixtieth (60th) meridian of longitude West from Greenwich be and hereby is adopted.

Section 2. That as a standard of time for the conduct of municipal affairs of the City of Mansfield between 2:00 o'clock A. M. on the last Sunday in September and 2:00 o'clock A. M. on the third Sunday in February, Eastern Standard Time to-wit: The mean astronomical time of the seventy-fifth (75th) meridian of longitude West from Greenwich, be and hereby is adopted.

Section 3. Whenever the time of performance of any act or the time of accrual or determination of any rights is fixed by any Municipal Department of the City of Mansfield by resolution, rule, regulation or order in effect under the authority thereof, such time above stipulated shall be standard time provided in this ordinance. All clocks maintained in or upon municipal buildings, existing as such under the laws of this state shall be set and run according to the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 4. That this ordinance be and hereby is declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety. The reason of such necessity lies in the fact that the effects of this act will afford the greatest advantage to the citizens of the City of Mansfield. Therefore this ordinance shall go into immediate effect and shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage.

Passed Feb 18, 1943.
Signed HOWARD G. MILLER, President of Council.
Attest R. R. BLACK, Clerk of Council.
Approved W. J. LOCKE, Mayor.

STOCKS STICK TO HIGH ROAD IN EARLY LIST

Retail Spending in Nation Exceeds Year Ago By 22 to 26 Per Cent.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Stocks continued to reach for new recovery highs in today's early market proceedings.

At a fairly active opening gainers of fractions included U. S. Steel, Pennsylvania, Woolworth, Chrysler, Goodrich and U. S. Rubber.

On the side of merchandising issues was the Dun & Bradstreet survey estimating this week's retail spending throughout the nation topped the comparable period last year by 22 to 26 per cent, with dollar volume at a record.

Bucyrus Industrialist Helps Provide Place of Worship.

BUCYRUS — Made possible through the financial assistance of John Q. Shunk, Bucyrus industrialist, the Bethany Pentecostal assembly will occupy its own place of worship early this summer.

Construction will start May 30, weather permitting on an assembly room to be erected on the Martin Teynor property on Dean and Irving streets, where a residence, which will serve as a parsonage, has been purchased.

Congregational meetings will be held in the parsonage until completion of the new place of worship which will be dedicated as the Blaine Memorial Lighthouse, in honor of Rev. A. C. Blaine, pastor here for four years. His daughter, Hev. Marie Blaine Schafer is now continuing the pastor's duties here.

CLUB ELECTS

The Future Homemakers 4-H club recently organized for the year at the home of the club advisor, Mrs. H. F. Tingley, Piper road, electing Phyllis Adams president. Other officers are:

Wanda Garnes, vice president; Norma Tingley, secretary; Joyce Mitchell, treasurer; Jean Miller and Margaret Tingley, recreation leaders; Josephine Sauder, news reporter.

Prizes in games and contests were won by Josephine and Geraldine Sauder. One of the club members, Rita Parkinson, who is moving to Ontario, was honored with a handkerchief shower. Fourteen members were present.

The next meeting will be March 19 with Phyllis Adams as hostess.

Mansfielders Heap Abuse on Liquor Store Employes, Trying 'Fair Play' Plan.

rector Fisher in Columbus, might have a little trouble getting to him.

The News Journal telephoned Fisher's office yesterday at 2 p. m., to be informed that Fisher was out to lunch. So was Ferd J. Bing, new assistant director and supervisor of state stores, according to a girl in the office who answered the telephone. She said she was alone in the office and didn't know where to reach her superiors, even in case of an emergency.

Informal rationing, of course, has been imposed—a limit of a quart a day. The result of that has been that some people whose habitual purchases might have been a quart every other week, have been buying a quart a day, every day they could get it.

But Poling suspects an even more sinister operation. A long-leaves little doubt that such pur-time resident of Mansfield, he knows, by sight at least, thousands of Mansfielders.

He suspects that many persons are buying liquor which they later intend to sell—in plain words, bootleg. There's no way he can stop them if they come into the store, fill out a slip and pay for the liquor—if there's liquor on the shelves.

While Poling didn't use the word "bootlegger," he related that experience during the current shortage showed that "repeaters" and "stooge buyers" had managed to obtain a considerable amount of the available supply.

"There is one instance that I know of personally where a car drove up loaded with seven or eight persons. Each came in and bought a quart of whisky. That is perfectly legal but when there are repeated purchases of this kind, it chases are being made by hoarders or those who might want it for illegal sale.

"Every purchase made along that line, is taking away the liquor that rightfully should be sold for legitimate use.

"We have noticed that in a great many instances the same persons are waiting in line when stores are selling. They have done it day after day and you can bet your bottom dollar they would be on hand if they knew in advance just when a supply of liquor was in and the hour when we would start selling."

It is in order to prevent such regular buying that Poling has instituted his staggering hours schedule wherein sales are made only during certain hours, hours which are not publicly announced.

Sometimes hardships are worked on legitimate purchasers, but just as often, Poling believes, "stooge" buyers are forced to go away empty handed.

"We are only trying to make a fair distribution of what liquor supplies we receive," Poling said.

"What we could do and it would be the easiest way—would be to open our doors at 1 o'clock each day and sell liquor as long as the supply lasts. Then we could hang up a sign that supplies are gone and sit back and read a paper or magazine.

"But if we did that, where would the working man be? He steps in the store on his way home from work and finds out that the supply has been sold out in the afternoon when he didn't have a chance to come in. That wouldn't be treating him fairly. It gives the fellow who isn't tied down to a job the advantage of getting his wants filled and leaves the other with nothing.

"It's for that reason that we have been resorting to a policy of unannounced "staggered" sale hours. If no one knows just when we are selling, there is no discrimination and all have an equal chance to buy whatever stock is available."

"We have gone through, and are still getting, no end of abuse and criticism from purchasers in spite of the fact that we are doing is intended to treat those purchasers as fairly as we can.

"Members of my staff as well as myself have been accused of holding a bottle back for friends and delivering it to them when they call. We have been charged with selling liquor out the back door. We have been cursed and have even been threatened.

None of this is true. Our staff is made up of good, capable men. In spite of all this we try to maintain our usual courtesy although there are times when we feel like giving up the ghost and selling until we're out, to whoever comes first."

He stressed the fact that the company has made every effort to make working conditions as safe as possible in a highly hazardous industry.

"We have no safety department in the company," Kennedy said; "we have only set up the safety rules, and left compliance with them up to our employes. The fact that our firm has placed first in safety for four consecutive years among Class A (the largest) utility companies in national competition tells how well our program has worked. We are proud of the fact that our safety is supervised by volunteers—by employes who add safety supervision to their regular duties."

Kennedy expressed the belief that the Mansfield division would maintain its perfect record indefinitely.

Other speakers were P. V. Fraser, chief production engineer; Lawrence Bartlett, field engineer for Electric Advisors, Inc., part of the Ohio Public Service and Cities Service organization; D. A. Dresisbausch, secretary of the general safety committee; Con Dunn, general OPS sales manager; George Snyder, general distribution engineer and C. S. Bowden, general safety chairman for the company. Charles Shutt, of the meter department of the Mansfield division, retiring division safety director, was chairman of the meeting. He introduced Service-Safety Director Fred B. Wolff and Mayor W. J. Locke. The latter spoke briefly, complimenting the division employes on their record. Joy A. Herbert, manager of the Mansfield division, urged employes to carry on toward and past a million man-hours without an accident.

Plaques for safety work were presented by Bowden to R. D. Iden, Ira L. Bronson and Hugh Crawford. Iden and Bronson are Mansfield office executives. Crawford is superintendent of the Melco plant.

Basil Swain, Melco storekeeper, will succeed Shutt as division safety director.

FUNERAL SET

Rites For Plymouth Marshal To Be Held Saturday.

PLYMOUTH Funeral services for Otis Moore, 51, Plymouth village marshal and street commissioner, who died Wednesday night as the result of injuries suffered when a truck pinned him against a building, will be conducted Saturday at 3 p. m. at the Lutheran church in Plymouth. ## Fish and Game Association Backs Farm Conservation Up For Vote Tomorrow.

will be in the hands of five supervisors chosen in Richland county. It will be purely local in application and management."

Ensminger asserted that the program already is being successfully operated in a number of Ohio counties, including Morrow. If approved, it will make federal funds available for the benefit of farms in the event a post-war public works is set up, he added.

The program, if voted by farmers, will be set up on a three-year basis. At the end of that period, farmers will have another opportunity to vote on its continuance.

The Richland Marketing Protest association yesterday issued a statement opposing the conservation plan, contending that it would mean added taxes and more restrictions on farmers.

Farm owners in Mansfield and elsewhere in the county may vote by the absentee method today. Voting will begin at 2 p. m. Saturday at the county agent's office, Shelby town hall, Bellville town hall, and Shenandoah community house.

County Agent George B. Ganyard estimated today that only a small part of the approximately 2,000 eligible farm owners would cast ballots tomorrow. The conservation plan requires a 65 per cent majority vote.

Shelby Group to Help in Red Cross War Fund Drive.

Services of Shelby's Business and Professional Women were enlisted last night in that city's campaign to raise $10,500 as part of Richland county's $59,000 quota in the Red Cross war fund drive between March 1 and 15.

Miss Miriam Hooper, Richland county Red Cross executive secretary; Miss Esther Barnett, home service director, and Raymond Pugh, Shelby war fund chairman, were on the program of the club last night. The club agreed, not only to contribute, but to distribute flags, posters and literature.

Shelby made plans for launching its drive Tuesday night when Edwin T. Thayer, assistant field director from Fort Knox, made the principal address.

Mrs. C. C. Fish, who is vice-chairman of the Richland county board, is chairman of the Shelby organization.

KASSERINE PASS RECAPTURED IN ALLIED ADVANCE

Rommel Believed Falling Back on Gafsa Under Heavy Pounding From Air.

receding German tide at 3 p. m. yesterday.

It was clear Rommel was suffering heavy casualties under a day and night hammering from nearly every type of bomber and fighter in the Allied armory, either in the Middle East or French North Africa.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth British army to the south, meanwhile, was reported to have penetrated the outer defenses of the Mareth line in the first phase of a developing pincers movement designed to squeeze the Africa corps back onto the coastal plain and crush it between two armies.

A systematic aerial battering of Rommel's supply depots, airfields and transport columns supported the Allied ground advance in the Kasserine area, and Allied troops also were reported threatening recently-won German positions at Sbeitla and Ousseltia, northwest of the gap.

Strong Allied patrols moved toward Sbeitla from the direction of Sbiba, 22 miles to the northeast, while French troops advancing from mountains on the west side of the Ousseltia valley smashed one after another of the enemy's positions in that area.

As the First army drove Rommel's forces back toward the coast, Allied forces began reaping the advantages of geographical position which made the German break-through last week possible.

Fighting to stabilize a line along the dorsal ridge from Robaa to below Tebessa, 90 miles to the southwest, Allied troops were forcing Rommel to spread his army thinly along a long defense position, guarding every pass where British and America forces might break through to the coast and menace the Mareth line from the rear.

Observers believed the heavy Allied attacks on Rommel's transport and rear positions were but a foretaste of what was coming as his army, moving back out of the mountains onto the long flat roads of the plateau to the east, offered an increasingly easy target for bombing and strafing.

Reds Closing Trap On Caucasus Army

LONDON—(AP)—Closing a trap about the remnants of the German Caucasus army huddled in Novorossisk and wedged against Kerch Strait, the red army smashed into the railway town of Angelinskaya, about 60 miles northeast of Novorossisk, and then took Staronizhe-Steblievskaya, a few miles south, in a bloody battle, the Russian noon communique said today.

The drive, 40 miles northwest of Krasnodar, apparently was progressing down the railway from Timashevkukaya, previously recaptured, to Novorossisk.

West of Krasnodar, Russian columns were said to be pushing past Mingrelskaya, 33 miles from Novorossisk, and at Akhtirskaya, only 25 miles from the coast.

Hundreds of dead were left in the streets of Staronizhe-Steblievskaya after an all-night battle, the noon communique declared.

The advance was coupled in the war bulletin with a declaration that wave after wave of German counter-attacks with tanks and motorized infantry had been repulsed southwest of Krasnodar, in the Dzhubga bend north of Sochi.

Two-score enemy tanks were disabled or burned, the war bulletin said.

Jugoslavs Slay 1,000 Axis Invaders

LONDON—(AP)—Usually reliable sources said today that Russia and the Jugoslav exile government have reached a basic understanding for a settlement of differences that have led to pitched battles between communist partisans and followers of Gen. Draja Mikhailovitch in Jugoslavia.

It was understood negotiatons have reached a point where a powerful coalition of the Mikhailovitch patriot armies and those led by communist partisans is envisioned. The Daily Sketch said details of the understanding were expected to be announced soon.

In Jugoslavia itself, however, there still was no evidence of any imminent union of the two groups. The partisans' radio station, Free Jugoslavia, was quoted by the London Daily Worker as charging that a close associate of Mikhailovitch conferred with Italian officers yesterday at Split on the Dalmatian coast.

The broadcast also was quoted as saying that the partisans had killed 4,000 followers of Mikhailovitch and 1,600 Germans in fighting near Lake Mikhailovitch's troops joined with the Germans, Italians and Nazis Ustachis in fighting the partisans, it added.

The Jugoslav government here repeatedly had denied that Mikhailovitch collaborates with the Axis.

MUST BE REPORTED

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Reversing a previous ruling that owners of custom canned foods for which they surrendered their own ration of sugar need not be reported in applying for war ration book No. 4, the office of price administration declared all custom canned fruits and vegetables must be reported.

Allies Put Axis Into Reverse

Axis offensive in central Tunisia has been thrown into reverse by British, American and French troops, who have forced Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Afrika Korps to turn back and retreat from the Kasserine Pass, as shown on this map. Meanwhile, the British Eighth army is applying more pressure on the Axis forces to the southeast in the vicinity of the Mareth Line.

Japs Lose 29 Planes In Raid On U. S. Base

NEW DELHI—(INS)—Six Japanese bombers and three Zero fighters were shot down, and 20 other enemy aircraft probably destroyed in the series of dogfights over the American airfield at Assam on Wednesday morning, a late check-up disclosed today.

There were 46 Japanese planes in the armada that attempted to rid the American base. American fighters went up to intercept the raiders and battles raged over an area of 300 square miles.

American fighter planes carried out offensive sweeps yesterday over North Burma. One Japanese troop camp was completely wiped out and another heavily damaged.

American heavy bombers again blasted the Myitnge bridge.

Bomb Jap Positions Near Mandalay

NEW DELHI—(INS)—Japanese positions at Yohaung, in the Myitha valley south of Mandalay, were bombed by British Blenheims, the India command announced today.

Royal Air Force fighter forces meanwhile shot up railroad trucks and river craft in widespread sweeps.

Asks Thailanders To Stage Revolt

CHUNGKING—(U.P.)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek today broadcast an appeal to the people of Thailand (Siam) to revolt against Japanese occupation, pointing out that "the day for you to save Thailand is drawing near."

Even as Chiang spoke, ill-equipped Chinese troops were making small gains against the enemy along the 1,400-mile front in China's interior. The news was more favorable than at any time since the Japanese began a new drive eight days ago to knock the Chinese out of the war.

FDR Commends Men For Papuan Campaign

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Allied forces in the Southwest Pacific were personally commended today by President Roosevelt for the successful campaign against the Japanese in the Papua area of New Guinea and for the current nonstop aerial offensive against Jap shipping which has exacted a three-day toll of 16 vessels.

"The efficient bombardment hammered by your air forces during the past few weeks, especially the last few days," said the president, "supports the situation in the Solomons and in furtherance of your own operations commands our admiration."

The president's message was made public along with a communique announcing that six more Jap ships had been blasted in addition to the 10 damaged or sunk on Tuesday and Wednesday.

President Roosevelt at the same time took occasion to congratulate Gen. MacArthur on the successful ground operations of his American and Australian troops which ousted the Japs from the jungles of the Papua territory.

ROAD FUND APPROVED

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Expenditure of $8,460,449 for construction and improvement of access roads to military and naval establishments and war industries in Ohio has been recommended by the public roads administration.

away for a greater distance would have placed it over the horizon.

Frazier said he and Smith lost sight of the warship at 2:30 p. m., and finally landed the plane an hour and 45 minutes later.

They spread out a rubber life raft on the top wing and prepared to inflate it if the aircraft sank. The starboard wing float was leaking badly and the men took turns sitting on the port wing to counterbalance it.

Smith said that during a uncomfortable night he kept trying to think of a song he wanted to sing but was unable to recall it until he was aboard ship.

"It was, 'I'm Looking for a Four-Leaf Clover,'" he said.

"Mr. Frazier was carrying a pair of dice and he joked about how he'd shoot me to see who ate the rations," Smith added. "But he lost the dice later and we never did roll them."

Because Frazier came down with an hour's fuel supply still in the tank, it was possible to taxi the plane to the rescue ship's stern where it was recovered. Damage was slight, although the plane possibly would have sunk within another 24 hours.

extra amounts printed locally and at their own expense. Ration books, however, cannot be printed at places other than those authorized by the government, he pointed out.

Beelman said he had asked the Cleveland OPA office whether the rationing registration period could be extended in the event the necessary books failed to arrive, and had been answered with a flat "No," officials insisting that the entire registration job must be completed by this afternoon.

When he asked what he should do when all the books were gone, Beelman said, the answer was "get some more," though no one offered a suggestion as to where they could be obtained.

Statistics showed there were great increases in the number registered at each of the city's 10 grade schools yesterday. The three day total in the city is 36,078.

Figures of the schools' registrations follow, with the first number that of yesterday's registrants and the second, the total for the three day period: Bowman 2,552 - 6,786; Brinkerhoff 1,531 - 3,965; Bushnell 936 - 2,325; Carpenter 1,409 - 3,635; Hedges 1,583 -4,165; Newman 1,324 - 3,457; Prospect 1,252 - 3,473; West Fifth 1,280 3,669; Woodland 620 - 1,693.

SEES LABOR IMPORTATION

LORAIN—(U.P.)—Frank W. Baldau, assistant area director of the war manpower commission and chairman of the labor-management committee in Lorain county, said today 6,000 workers would have to be imported into the country by December.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

board to act quickly to settle the dispute or surrender jurisdiction.

Officials of the local said their action wouldn't be a strike nor would they indicate whether the "24 hour mass meeting" beginning at 12:05 a. m. Monday would again close the Boeing plants here and at nearby Renton, Wash. Officials of the Boeing company said the local had promised them, prior to yesterday's mass meeting, that it would be attended only by workers off duty. Instead, they said, 97 per cent of the workers who were supposed to be at work, attended and the plants could not be operated until they returned.

The union, like all affiliates of the American Federation of Labor and of the Congress of Industrial organizations, is pledged not to strike and the word "strike" was not used at yesterday's meeting or in the ultimative resolution.

Officials of the San Diego and Burbank locals of the International Associations of Machinists refused to indicate how they would react to the invitations to hold "24 hour mass meetings." But Brig. Gen. Charles E. Branshaw, district supervisor of production for the army air forces, telegraphed local union officials from Santo Monica, that their action was "treasonable" because flying fortresses "constitute our most effective striking weapons, without which we cannot hope to win the war."

Various proposals and demands for wage increases and wage stabilization in the airplane industry, particularly along the west coast, have been before the war labor board for eight months. The local workers demand an increase in their minimum wage scale of 62½ cents an hour, to 95 cents an hour, the minimum of workers in local shipyards.

Harold Gibson, president of the local, insisted that the action was not a strike but merely action designed to shake the labor board out of "its complacency" by indicating that the workers were "fed up."

Keep Mine Closed In Deferment Protest

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—The daily flow of 4,700 tons of soft coal from the Montour Number 4 mine of the Pittsburgh Coal company was halted for the third straight day today as groups of the 650 idle miners milled about their community near here, terming their walk-out purely a "patriotic protest" against the draft deferment of one man.

Harold Cass, president of Local 1198, United Mine Workers, said: "We won't work while that guy remains in the mine."

The "guy" is Walter E. Chaffon, 27, unmarried, who lives near Cannonsburg, Pa., and works in his spare time on his uncle's 700-acre farm.

Chaffon said he never asked for draft deferment and instead, would like to enter the army.

Production Halted, Strikers Dismissed

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Production at the Aluminum company of America smelter plant was tied up again today as the company reported new dismissals of strikers for failing to resume work under a regional war labor board.

An ALCOA spokesman said 21 first-shift furnace tenders reported on the job but failed to work, fearing reprisals by discharged employes who remained at the plant.

Nearly 50 employes on the midnight-to-7 a. m., shift failed to resume operations and were dropped from the payrolls under the WLB order to work or be discharged, the spokesman added. These dismissals brought the total for the past two days to "between 80 and 100"—more than half of the 150 strikers involved—the company reported.

"I will outline the duties of each protective unit," Judge Kalbfleisch said, "and will stress in no uncertain terms what will be required henceforth from every leader. With state blackout tests coming soon and with increasing demands for work on the part of the various war services, it is essential that every leader fully understand the duties of his group and the responsibilities involved."

Present defense organization comprises around 3,300 members. Judge Kalbfleisch announced recently, and a more effective executive board is needed in his opinion. He declined today to announce his selection of a defense commander until the late afternoon meeting.

Workers Who Left Boeing Plant

An eight-block line of workers from the Boeing Aircraft company plants in Seattle and Kenton, Wash., is shown parading through Seattle streets after they had walked out, demanding that the War Labor board act immediately on their requests for wage increases. year, but it's hardly ever more than five per cent of the crop," Stone said.

Figures compiled at yesterday's state meeting showed that 19 per cent of the soybeans and 16 per cent of the corn grown in Ohio last year remain in the fields.

In the county, Stone said damage to the unharvested soybeans probably has been heavy, but the corn withstood the weather better. Some of the beans can still be used for livestock feed, he said.

Elmer Kruse, chairman of the state agricultural war board, said it is important now to get the unharvested crops out of the field so farmers can start their spring plowing for the new crop.

"This emergency must be met on a community basis," said Kruse. "There is little time left to rally manpower necessary to save last year's crops remaining in the fields."

of aircraft over the Swiss-Italian border in the vicinity of Lugano.

The German radio admitted that British bombers had attacked targets in both western and southwest Germany.

Casualties were inflicted and "heavy residential damage" caused in the bombardment of southwest Germany, the Nazis said. It was claimed by the Germans that at least five of the RAF craft were shot down.

The continuous roar of motors from heavyweight bombers, twin-engine and single engine craft shattered the sleep of residents in numerous coastal towns.

The procession of aircraft was led by the heaviest craft in the British arsenal, Lancasters, Lancasters, Halifaxes and Stirlings, which were heard returning from the missions hours later.

Numerous formations of twin and single engine ships followed the mammoth bombers into the air and maintained a shuttle service to the continent throughout the night.

Several formations were seen in operation over the channel long after the arrival of daylight.

In the normal course of events it could be fully expected that United States Flying Fortresses and Liberator bombers would carry on during the day.

The possibility that northern Italy underwent a simultaneous attack was seen in a dispatch from Zurich reporting that a number of heavy bombers flew over the Swiss city of Lugano at 8 p. m. Lugano is on the Italian frontier, 40 miles northwest of the large industrial city of Milan.

Marie Goard was granted a divorce on common pleas court from George Bliss Goard, adjudged guilty of extreme cruelty. They were married July 20, 1936.

Suit for divorce has been filed in common pleas court by Mildred Finley against Lester Finley, the plaintiff charging gross neglect of duty. Custody of a child is sought by the plaintiff and the Trojan Powder company has been enjoined from paying any monies to the defendant during pendency of the suit. This was Mrs. Finley's second action against her husband, a previous divorce suit having been withdrawn by her.

BARS ATTORNEY FROM PRACTICE

BUCYRUS — Found guilty of three charges of misconduct, Attorney Edward C. King of Crestline was ordered disbarred from the practice of law in common pleas court here Wednesday.

He was charged with accepting fees for services in filing actions which were never filed and for converting to his own use funds from an estate in Richland county in which he was represented as administrator.

FUNERAL TODAY

BUCYRUS — Funeral services will be held today at 2 p. m. at the Nazareth Lutheran church for Mrs. Daniel Schimpf, 68, who died at her home in Chatfield Wednesday. Burial will be made in the parish cemetery. Rev. Paul Dornbirer will officiate.

Mrs. Schimpf was born July 28 1875, in Cratfield township and her marriage to Daniel Schimpf took place Dec. 28, 1902.

SHELBY COUNCIL TO VOTE ON FUNDS FOR CITY TRAILER CAMP

SHELBY—City council will decide whether to appropriate funds for the municipal trailer camp at its regular semi-monthly session at 7:30 p. m. Monday at the city building.

The cost estimates have been cut to $1,700 from $2,300 by Boyd Wierman of Mansfield, city engineer, by revising the plans for the proposed camp.

The utility building in the new plans will be portable so that if the site selected at the Municipal Water company grounds is not suitable, it can be moved to some other area.

Space will be available for between 30 and 40 trailers at the camp which will be housed on the east end of the grounds where a cinder drive will be constructed. The utility building will be heated and house doulbe toilets and showers. Electricity and sewer connections will be furnished.

SHELBY—Kenneth Koontz enlisted in the Navy Seabees at Cleveland on Thursday and became the third Shelby fireman to answer the call of his country.

Edward Lysinger is in an army training camp while his successor, Hobart Roberts, is awaiting induction call after taking his preliminary examination.

SHELBY—Ed Brown of Shelby has accepted a position as manager of the A. & P. store in Millersburg.

ARRIVES SAFELY

BUCYRUS — Dispatches from North Africa Wednesday told of the safe arrival of Don Hagaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hagaman, with the contingent of Red Cross workers assigned to duty in the war area there. In the group were six men, two of them Ohioans, and several women executives.

GETS ASSIGNMENT

ASHLAND — Miss Maxine Thomas of Ashland left Thursday night for Fort Monmouth, N. J., where she has been assigned to service as an army nurse. She has received her commission as a second lieutenant in the army nursing corps.

SITE SELECTED FOR NEW SHELBY WATER PIPELINE

Government Grant Expected To Be Under Figure Set In Request.

SHELBY—The site of the pipeline from the proposed upground storage reservoir, east of the Black Fork river, near the Tucker avenue bridge to the Municipal Water company plant was selected Thursday during a conference between the engineers drawing up the plans and city officials.

The 7,500-foot pipeline will be part of the water company improvements planned at an estimated cost of $165,000.

The application for funds was expected to be granted by the federal government for the project, but not in as large amount as the city had asked.

City officials had filed for a grant of $135,000, borrowing $30,000 from the light company fund to pay for the balance. Unofficially it was reported that the federal government would grant about $100,000. If this is so, the council would have to provide an additional $35,000.

Legislation concerning the project is expected to be ready for the council session to be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday at the city hall.

NAME WINNERS

8 Crawford Students Picked as Essay Contest Victors.

BUCYRUS — Eight high school students whose essays have been selected as the best submitted by students of Bucyrus, Tiro and Sulphur Springs high schools in the essay contest sponsored by the Ohio American Legion, were named today by E. C. Oppenlander, chairman of the Col. Crawford post contest.

Those to receive the local awards and whose essays will be entered in competition with the winners from Galion and Crestline are Betty Ann Weaver of Bucyrus and Berman Seibert of Tiro, ninth grade; Jack Henderson and Jacqueline Weller, Bucyrus, 10th grade; Edward Jerome Smith and Rosemary Baumgartner, Bucyrus, 11th grade, and Richard Bash and Ruth Aller, Bucyrus, 12th grade.

Twelve boys and girls will be selected along with a second best in each of the four grades for the state award which will be an all-expense paid trip to the national capital or its equivalent.

START PROGRAM

BUCYRUS—A Boy Scout leadership program in charge of S. K. Kalber, designed to develop Scouters, will get under way at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night.

Leadership training classes will continue for seven weeks and are a part of a series being held throughout the four county Harding area.

PAY UP TAXES

BUCYRUS — Real estate tax collections in Crawford county for the current collection have reached $238,355.26, Mae L. Kloepfer, county treasurer, announced today. Of the collections, $18,120.18 represent delinquent payments made before the books were opened for the current collection as a courtesy for partial payments for delinquents.

SHELBY SCHOOLS REOPEN MONDAY

Unexpected Vacation to End For 1,400 Pupils as Classes Resume.

SHELBY—Some 1,400 students will return to the classes in the Shelby public schools on Monday after receiving a week's unexpected holiday.

The holiday was given because of the point-registration which has been taking place at the high school gymnasium for the past four days. The members of the faculty and selected senior students have been serving as registrars.

The schools closed on Monday because of Washington's birthday observance.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1943.

Contrary to reports that he has "gone west," Hitler reports that he is still in the east.

Let it be remembered, before it is too late, that the road to defeat would also be "paved with good intentions."

Even when government talk is all in "billions" it's a bad idea for tax spenders to get the notion that a million dollars isn't "a lot of money."

Hitler's Latest Proclamation

MYSTERY surrounding the strange silence of Adolf Hitler during the past several weeks is not dispelled by the blatant "proclamation" he is assumed to have issued Wednesday but which was read by an underling instead of being delivered by the fuehrer in person, as had been his earlier habit. All that was explained was that he is "with his armies in the east," which one observer thinks "may be good reason to believe that he is elsewhere concocting the next stroke."

All that is promised in what purports to be Hitler's newest proclamation is a period of deeper horror and suffering throughout Europe, with expression of determination that if he must fall he will carry with him as great a part of humanity as he can.

Glenn Babb, Associated Press war analyst, interprets the proclamation as "the declaration of a desperate, cornered man, a deadly dangerous man," and warns that the powers leagued for his destruction "must be on guard for something supremely bold, audacious, unscrupulous—something like Rommel's recent lightning stroke in Tunisia magnified ten or fifty fold in scope and significance."

An attack through Spain, resort to poison gas and increased submarine activity in the Atlantic are among suggestions of possible next desperate Nazi moves—but the only thing that seems entirely clear is that the war is still far from being over and that the potentialities of United Nations strength must become a fighting reality before victory can be attained.

Victory Exposition Opens Here

STARTING this afternoon and continuing through Sunday, residents of Mansfield and vicinity will have opportunity to get a clear idea of the wide variety of war equipment and army methods by actually seeing exhibits and hearing explanations of many of the weapons being used and supplies required by our fighting forces.

It is at the Armory, on Ashland road, that this Victory Exposition is to be held, sponsored by local service organizations and authorized by the U. S. war department. Receipts in excess of costs are to go to the Army Emergency Relief Fund.

In addition to the exhibit of loaned military equipment and material brought here for the occasion, there will be a showing of products of a number of local industries, a simulated air raid, with replica of a model air raid shelter copied after those used in London, a motion picture of America at War, a demonstration of methods used in transmitting military communications and other features.

All in all, this Victory Exposition promises lively interest and valuable information for those who attend—children as well as adults.

Other Governors Plan Economies

ACTION by the legislature on the proposal to remove the retail sales tax from food served in restaurants, and from prescription drugs, is being deferred until the $369,000,000 biennial appropriation bill—to meet Governor Bricker's record-breaking budget—is out of the way.

Whether any serious effort will be made by the legislature to question the real need for such a tremendous sum as is being asked for by Governor Bricker has not yet been indicated, except for the fact that the Republican majority in the legislature seems inclined to "go along" with any grandiose ideas the governor may have about spending public money, instead of effecting economies which would make tax-reductions possible.

The practicability of more economical operation of state business was demonstrated by Thomas L. Dewey, newly installed governor of New York, who cut the state's budget almost $12,000,000, and a similar attitude is being shown by Edward Martin, new Republican governor of Pennsylvania, who has announced that Pennsylvania's budget for the next two years will be reduced $78,500,000.

In contrast, Ohio's Governor Bricker is asking for around $22,000,000 MORE to operate the state's business during the next two years, and is planning to eat deeply into the present surplus of $45,000,000—so that there may be no "new or increased taxes."

It may be wondered how a record of extravagant spending can be made nationally attractive in furthering presidential aspirations—unless it is assumed that wasteful expenditure of public money has become an approved administrative policy under the New Deal regime.

Island Bases Are Stepping Stones

ONE of the co-operative measures of this war has been the British transfer to the United States of islands for strategic bases in various parts of the world, especially in the Pacific ocean. Those transfers are in the form of ninety-nine-year leases, and have been paid for by ships transferred to Britain. They are being used to advantage for the construction of air bases particularly. And they may be regarded also as a series of stepping stones to Japan.

Now some senators at Washington are suggesting that, instead of the present leases, Britain shall transfer the islands to this country in fee simple, so that the United States shall own them permanently beyond all question.

There would be no harm in that, but the proposal seems a little premature. Uncle Sam still has them for 98 years, which is quite a long time. Many things may happen in that time, to many nations. Conditions will change and new problems arise.

An observer notes that whenever a Washington agency is "given the green light," nothing happens—which appears to add color blindness to other administrative defects.

It should be noted that it is an eastern firm dealing in knitters' supplies, not a publishing house, that is offering bargains in "off-color yarns."

Another overlooked opportunity is seen in the failure to reveal the brand of pipe tobacco that Joe Stalin smokes.

IT LOOKS LIKE AN UNEQUAL BATTLE

Provisional Government for India Seen as Possible Settlement Plan

(Editor's Note: In tomorrow's article DeWitt MacKenzie, war analyst of the News-Journal, continues his discussion of a provisional national government as a solution of the Indian problem and presents the views of Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, Indian liberal, and Dr. Syama Prasad Mookerjee, president of the Hindu Mahasabha, one of the political parties.)

By DEWITT M'KENZIE

WHEN I left India after studying the political crisis I submitted voluminous notes to British censorship so that I might be free to take them out of the country, and among these explosive items was the following:

"There are many people who believe that either Britain and the warring parties will settle their differences now or the dispute will be settled ultimately in the old fashioned way—by revolution. Gandhi has admitted the possibility of civil strife."

Now, of course, the fact that the censor passed this note doesn't necessarily mean that he agreed there was danger of rebellion, but only that he accorded me extreme freedom of speech.

Apropos of the crying necessity for speed, my previous articles on the dangers involved in this quarrel have emphasized three cardinal points.

1. This bloody controversy has ceased to be a family affair and has become a menace to the cause of the United Nations.

2. There is a serious food shortage in India which is expected to reach its peak about April, and many observers fear food riots.

3. Mahatma Gandhi's hunger strike, which may cost his life and thereby make him a saintly martyr in the eyes of countless worshipful followers, has increased the dangers of the situation.

With these points before us the conclusion would seem to be inescapable that an immediate settlement is demanded in the interests not only of England and India, but of the United Nations. Obviously our own United States is vitally concerned.

Any alternatives to agreement look pretty grim. The best one could hope for would be a long-drawn-out stalemate of bitterness. The great military base and arsenal from which the Allies must strike at Japan through Burma would be only partly effective because of dissension. And India would be lost as one of the guardians of United Nations interests in the Orient after the war.

But even if all hands subscribe to this view, which side is to make the first move?

Naturally, it's for the British government to decide whether it can afford to reopen the case. However, my investigations convinced me that should it do so there would be an eager response from the Indian leaders. I should add that I left India just before Gandhi started his hunger-strike and his death obviously might alter the entire situation.

There has been a great change of atmosphere since last summer. Many observers believe the stiff attitude of the Indian leaders then may have been inspired by a belief the Allies were losing the war.

Be that as may, these leaders now know an Allied victory is certain.

On the other side it must be recorded that Britain's triumph in Libya has made her feel very certain of her position. Whether this also has made her less inclined to dicker with the nationalists remains to be seen.

AND NOW I come to an extraordinary phase of my research. I found a widespread belief among Indian leaders, government supporters and impartial observers that the way to achieve a settlement was for the British authorities to use strong-arm methods, that is, to set up a provisional national government and let those who didn't want to play the game stay out.

This provisional government would bear the stamp of the sovereignty which England has promised India. But it would leave exact details to be worked out and would make its first business the winning of the war. The war effort would be the bond to unite the various factions. The general view expressed to me was that everybody would come in.

What surprised me was to discover Indian leaders themselves subscribing to such an arbitrary procedure. Still, a bit of study discloses the logic of the proposal.

Britain already has promised Indian absolute independence. That's what counts. It is side issues and arguments over methods of procedure which have been blocking settlement.

In saying this, I don't mean to dismiss lightly the political, religious and social differences involved in these issues. They represent one of the greatest problems of its kind in the history of any country.

The point is, however, that argument over these differences only protracts the agony and doesn't get anywhere.

That's why we find even Indians coming to the conclusion that the only solution lies in application of arbitrary methods which will push the secondary considerations aside and inaugurate the free government which is the soul of the India crusade.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Monday, Feb. 26, 1923.

Conference was called to encourage development of rubber production in the Philippines and South America, to break British "rubber monopoly."

Charles Holcker, 71, Crestline's pioneer carriage manufacturer, died.

Priscilla Dean in "Under Two Flags," was screen attraction at Opera House.

J. C. Gorman was granted patent on a plunger force pump.

George N. Stevens, 70, Mansfield Civil war veteran, died at soldiers' home in Sandusky.

Miss Alice Marie O'Dell and Elmer W. Schmidt were married by Rev. H. C. Roehner.

Caricatures of members, thrown on screen, provided diversion at meeting of Exchange club, held at Elks grill.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Napoleon escaped from Elba, his place of exile, on this date in 1815. He again took command of an army, which was defeated by Wellington at the Battle of Waterloo. He then was exiled to the island of St. Helena.

Dave Boone Says:

I GUESS that never before in history have so many questions flown back and forth in the United States as in those places where the folks are lining up for their new ration books. You'd think some of the girls never heard of the requirements before.

* * *

The questions the women asked were sillier than the ones for which they pay $50 on some of those quiz programs. And some of the answers they got weren't the $64 type either.

* * *

But the sacrifices asked for through rationing seem trivial indeed when you open your newspaper and read of the lives lost in those two ship sinkings of American men and women bound for overseas work, and accidents like that to the famous Yankee Clipper in Lisbon.

* * *

What a great record Captain R. O. D. Sullivan of that clipper has. He had made more than 100 trips across the Atlantic as a clipper pilot and flown more miles over the Atlantic than all the fliers from Alcock and Brown's time. And the clipper itself had made 240 crossings in four years.

Extension As Usual.

While some of the Democrats were absent the other day, the Republicans in the house got aid from a few dissidents from the majority party to vote a ban on the system under which all government agencies are permitted to send out mail without paying postage.

One could get more enthusiastic over this sudden show of economy if it were not for the fact that these same representatives voted down an amendment which would have taken the franking privilege away from members of congress.

Our mail, apparently, is still going to be cluttered up with those parasitic, postage-free pamphlets, usually labeled "extension of remarks by Congressman Blah-Blah."—Akron Beacon-Journal.

By DREW PEARSON

French Bankers Knew In Advance Of Plans to Invade North Africa

WASHINGTON—Gradually more details of the state department's policy of cooperating with Vichy appeasers is leaking out, and unfortunately it does make good reading.

Latest untold chapter is how the big bankers in Paris knew in advance all about the American landing in North Africa and transferred their funds there to the tune of 25 billion francs or $350,000,000. Then, after sneaking this sum out of France, the French bankers, with the aid of their friend U. S. Minister Robert Murphy, brought pressure to raise the exchange rate on the franc.

Finally they succeeded. This simple transaction increased the holdings of the state department's banking friends to $525,000,000.

The story seems almost unbelievable, but here are the sordid details.

Ever since the fall of France, Germany has been taking over valuable French property from the Jews, labor unions, and refugees who had fled from occupied countries. In doing this, the Germans obviously were preparing for a long-term, throttle-hold on France, so they went about it very carefully.

Apparently they wanted to avoid litigation in French courts after the war so they arranged these deals through certain French banks. The Jewish, labor union and refugee property was ordered taken over and given to the banks. Then the Germans bought the property from the banks, paying in francs.

However, the francs were taken out of the "Occupation Francs" which the Bank of France paid to Germany every day, for the cost of occupation; so actually these deals did not cost the Nazis anything.

Huge French Profits.

THE FRENCH bankers were permitted to keep the purchase price of the property, so they amassed huge profits, and it was these profits which were transferred to North Africa before the American landing.

The banks doing business with the Germans were: the Banque de Paris et de Pay Bas, the Banque de l'Indo-China and the Banque Wurms.

Despite their close co-operation with Germany, apparently these bankers knew in advance that U. S. troops were going to land in North Africa. How they knew this military secret in ample time to send their money to Algiers—though the U. S. cabinet did not know it until a few days before—has not been definitely established on this side of the Atlantic.

However, certain circumstantial facts are significant. The charming and naive Robert Murphy, had as his close friend Jacques Lemaigre-Dubreuil, head of the French Association of Taxpayers, a big business lobby—financed by many of these bankers.

Lemaigre-Dubreuil worked hand in glove with the Comite des Forges, or Steel trust, which had property in Austria and Axis countries. He had led the fascist disturbances in Paris in 1934, shared the same political philosophy as these German-collaborating bankers, and was close to them.

Strangely enough its was Lemaigre-Dubreuil whom Murphy chose to handle his contacts for the invasion of North Africa. It was he who picked General Giraud, arranged to get him to North Africa in disguise, and who was Murphy's key man in this vitally important operation.

How much Lemaigre-Dubreuil told his banker friends in Paris about our military plans is his secret, but it is an incontrovertible fact that they moved their 25 billion franc profits, wrung from unfortunate Jews and labor unions, to North Africa shortly before the U. S. landing.

French Banking Lobby.

AFTER U. S. troops landed, the state, war and treasury departments had agreed to keep the exchange rate at 75 francs for one dollar. Whereupon the French bankers immediately launched a lobbying campaign to peg the franc at 50 to the dollar. Obviously this would greatly enhance the 25 billion franc nest-egg they had sneaked out of Paris.

Strangely enough the bankers received vigorous support from the naive Bob Murphy. His argument was that in Free French Africa to the south, the franc was pegged at 50 to the dollar, so it should not be 75 to the dollar in North Africa.

However, Washington had fixed the 75 franc rate in Algiers and Morocco because the Germans had made the franc much weaker in this area, while they had not been able to weaken the franc in Free French Africa.

The treasury is supposed to govern U. S. financial policy. But in this case, Mr. Murphy went to bat so vigorously for his French banking friends, that eventually he got hold of President Roosevelt in Casablanca and the White House issued an order fixing the rate at 50 francs to the dollar.

Over-night, the French banking clique which had profited from the forced sale of Jewish and labor union property had their 25 billion franc nest-egg increased in value from $350,000,000 to $525,000,000.

Bibles for Senators.

THE GIDEONS have presented each member of the senate with a handsome Bible bound in white leather with his name embossed on the cover. Perhaps the following unrecorded incident convinced the Gideons that the senate needed to read the Bible.

Recently the senate has been inviting chaplains from various denominations to deliver the opening prayer. This invitation was extended recently to Dr. Frank W. Bunker, leading Christian Scientist, who observed the ceremony of silent prayer, followed by the repetition of the Lord's prayer by all assembled. The senators stood respectively with heads bowed during the period of silence. But then when Dr. Bunker asked that they join him in the Lord's prayer, it seemed almost as if only two or three of them knew it. At least hardly a voice could be heard in the gallery above.

Shortly thereafter came the gift from the Gideons.

ERNIE PYLE — Roving Reporter

Tragedy of Surprise Attack In Tunisia Described By Writer.

TUNISIAN FRONT—(By Wireless)—On the morning the big German push started against the American troops in Tunisia, our forward command post in that area was hidden in a patch of cactus about a mile from the town of Sidi Bou Zid.

It had been there more than a week, and I had visited there myself only three days previously. I had spent a lot of time with our forward troops in the hills, and I knew most of the officers.

A command post is really the headquarters of a unit. In this case a brigadier general was in command. His staff included intelligence and planning officers, unit commanders, a medical detachment, kitchens and various odds and ends.

ERNIE PYLE

A command post of this size has several score vehicles and 200 or 300 men. Its work is all done in trucks, half-tracks or tents. It is always prepared to move, when at the front. And it does move every few days, so the enemy won't spot it.

THIS special command post was about 10 miles back from the nearest known enemy position. Our artillery and infantry and some tanks were between it and the enemy.

I am describing all this because I will use the men of this command post as characters in our story as I try to picture the tragedy of that first day's surprise push.

That Sunday morning hordes of German tanks and troops came swarming out from behind the mountains around Faid Pass. We didn't know so many tanks were back there, and didn't know so many Germans were, either, for our patrols had been bringing in mostly Italian prisoners from their raids.

The attack was so sudden nobody could believe it was in full force. Our forward troops were overrun before they knew what was happening. The command post itself didn't start moving back till after lunch. By then it was too late—or almost too late.

Command cars, half tracks and jeeps started west across the fields of semicultivated desert, for by then the good road to the north was already cut off. The column had moved about eight miles when German tanks came charging in upon the helpless vehicles from both sides.

A headquarters command post is not heavily armed. It has little to fight back with. All that these men and cars could do was duck and dodge and run like hell. There was no such thing as a fighting line. Everything was mixed up over an area of 10 miles or more.

It was a complete melee. Every jeep was on its own. The accompanying tanks fought till knocked out, and their crews then got out and moved along on foot. One tank commander, whose whole crew escaped after the tank caught fire, said that at least the German's didn't machine-gun them when they jumped from the burning tank.

A friend of mine, Maj. Ronald Elkins of College Station, Tex., had his half-track hit three times by German shells. They were standing still, cleaning a carburetor filter, when the third shell hit. It set them afire. Some of the crew eventually got back safely, but others are still missing.

The Germans just overran our troops that afternoon. They used tanks, artillery, infantry and planes dive-bombing our troops continuously. Our artillery was run over in the first rush. We were swamped, scattered, consumed by the German surprise.

Twilight found our men and machines straggling over an area extending some 10 miles back of Sidi Bou Zid. Darkness saved those that were saved.

During the night the command post assembled what was left of itself in another cactus patch about 15 miles behind its first position. Throughout the night, and for days afterward, tired men came straggling in from the desert afoot.

That night the Germans withdrew from the area they'd taken, and next morning we sent trucks back to bury the dead and tow out what damaged vehicles they could. But by next afternoon the battle was on again.

BOYS AND MARBLES

FROM EARLY dawn to far into the night marbles are rolling along the home front. A knobby five pound salt sack full has long been cached in the oldest boy's bureau drawer, but this spring every little brother has branched out for himself and marbles are everywhere. Even the three-year-old can mark a near circle upon the linoleum floor with chalk and, without 'hunching,' 'clean the pot,' before he stops.

Marbles are legal tender—the basis of endless bargains and payments for chores. The glassy spheres serve as wages, bribes and rewards of merit. I learned, with some amazement, that a single clear glassie might be worth fifteen or twenty ordinary marbles of the same size.

Our small boys practice constantly. In the big armchair, on the cushions of the cot, upon the floor by lantern light we hear the ping of clinking globules and see a group of boyish heads in eager attention or excited argument.

Their pockets are laden. They "daren't hang up their pants at bedtime," for fear of raining marbles over the attic floor. The ones that stick in the pockets until wash day make an added hazard. Hot water may break them, and they will not go through the wringer!

WHEREVER I go, I see the same thing happening. I watched a group of boys in an alley of the village. One husky lad took a sharpened stick and drew a great circle between puddles of muddy water. The circumference grew deeper by continuous usage.

About the circle six boys stood with marbles etching against each other in their pockets and played for keeps "an' the devil take the hindmost." Mud and water did not matter. They were oblivious of me parked a few feet away. I heard the quick crashing of the shooter as it moved the large one in the center of the ring and a quick sharp exclamation came from several boys.

"Boy, are you good! Gee, look at your thumb! The thumb nail's got a hole in it—how come?"

The other jerked his hand away. "Aw, that's nothin'. Just got that way from shootin' so straight, like this"—an he let fly again at the center of the ring, and carried away another prize.

Everyday Poem

—By GEORGE ELLISTON

Speak Out.

Sometimes if you are all alone
It helps to speak out loud.
A phrase, a sentence, will defeat
A silence, still and proud.

For there are times when silence is
An ogre fear-beset,
When worry weighs a weary heart
As grief and pain are met.

Speak out if silence troubles you
In loneliness a word
Upon the air is solace, brings
Relief when it is heard.

MISS WHITEMAN HAS THURSDAY CEREMONY

Rev. Charles Sheriff Reads Candlelight Ceremony; Miss Alfreta Bowden and Miss Jennie Lou Gannaway Furnish Nuptial Music.

TO THE STRAINS of Wagner's "Wedding March" from Lohengrin, Miss Donna Whiteman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Whiteman of Marion, was escorted to the candlelighted altar of the St. Matthew's church by her father and given in marriage to Sgt. Robert H. Boyd before a gathering of friends and relatives, Thursday night.

The lovely ceremony was read at 7:30 p. m., by Rev. Charles Sheriff. The altar was banked with fern and palms, and beauty baskets of gladiola.

The bride was gowned in white slipper satin, fashioned with a tight bodice, the back of which closed with tiny covered buttons and a sweetheart neckline. Seed pearl floral designs covered the front of the bodice. The extremely full skirt, which was gathered onto the bodice extended into a long train. Pearls were the bride's only jewelry. Her veil of white illusion was worn virgin style. She carried two white camellias on a white Bible. The satin ribbon was partially covered with white and green spray.

Attending Miss Whiteman was Miss Louise Sagar, as maid of honor and Miss Maureen Beal, of Dayton. Their gowns were of blue and pink faille respectively, fashioned with full skirts covered with matching net.

Both girls carried bouquets of blue iris with yellow acacia and wore matching flowers in their hair.

Cpl David Shelley, who is located at Camp Davis, N. C. a close friend of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Albert Falter and James H. Beal.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Whiteman wore a green and yellow flowered jersey frock. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue crepe dress with white trimming. Both had corsages of gardenias.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Alfreta Bowden, organist, played "Ave Maria" by Schubert, "Because" by D'Hardelot, "Thine Alone" by Victor Herbert and "Venetian Love Song" by Ethelbert Nevin. During the ceremony, Miss Bowden played "I Promise You" by Oakland. Mendelshon's "Wedding March" was used as the recessional. Miss Jennie Lou Gannaway sang "O Promise Me" by DeKoven.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held for 25 close friends and immediate families at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Beal, 41 Rowland avenue, where the bride has lived since moving to Mansfield. White roses and candles completed the decorations of the table which was centered with a large wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

When the newly married couple left for a wedding trip, the new Mrs. Boyd was wearing a two piece black and red silk jersey frock over which she wore a red coat, and red and black accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of gardenias. After their return Feb. 29, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd will make their home in Columbus.

The former Miss Whiteman is a graduate of Pleasant township high school, in Marion and is a member of the Zeta Rho Chapter of Delta Theta Tau sorority. She has been employed at the Great Lakes Steel corporation.

Sgt Boyd the son of Mrs. Ethel Boyd, 81½ West Fifth street and Harry Boyd of Cleveland, is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school. Previous to entering the armed forces he was employed by the Mansfield News-Journal. He is now stationed at the Lockbourne Air Base in Columbus.

Out-of-town guests included Mr and Mrs. R. I. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lewis of Shelby, Mr. and Mrs. Whiteman and Dale Whiteman parents and brother of the bride, of Marion.

Beta Kappa Tau Has Meet With Mrs. John Baki

At the regular meeting of the Beta Kappa Tau sorority, held Thursday night in the Madison theater mezzanine, members submitted names of proposed pledges and committees were appointed to serve during the March ruch season by the president, Mrs. John Baki.

Minutes of the last meeting were read, when the meeting was called to order, and dues were collected. Mrs. Baki named Miss Maxine Rimmer to schedule workers for the next two weeks for the War Bond and stamp booths in the theaters.

Committees who were appointed include Mrs. William Knarr, chairman of the informal initiation committee, who will be assisted by Miss Rose Huck, Mrs. Marjorie Dune and Mrs. Carol Kelly. Formal initiation committee is headed by Miss Eleanor Star. Other committee members are Mrs Baki, Mrs. Frederic Ackerman and Miss Rimmer.

The members named to the committee for active pledge week are Miss Bobby Berno, chairman; Mrs. Paul Chorpening, Mrs. Richard Darling, Mrs Leslie Snyder and Mrs. George Burgess. Reprints of the sorority constitution will be handled by Mrs. Jay Kisling and Miss Louise Enderle.

The first in a series of rush parties will be held the second week in March. At the next meeting, March 11 at 7:30 p. m. in the Madison theater mezzanine the time and place for the first party will be announced.

BENEFIT BRIDGE.

The Blue Star Mothers' club will hold a benefit bridge at the American Legion home at eight p. m. this evening.

Librarian Speaks At Conservation Club Meeting

Child Conservation club members heard an interesting talk by Miss Myra Lorimer, children's librarian at the Mansfield Public library, during their regular meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. William Joiner, West Third street. Mrs. Earl Boals was the associate hostess.

During the short business meeting which preceded the program, members voted to participate in the Victory Book campaign, with Mrs John Harrison appointed as chairman of the committee.

At the close of the meeting a buffet luncheon was served, with Mrs Carl Brock presiding at the table.

Another meeting, in two weeks, will be at the home of Mrs. Gaylord Farber, Harter avenue, with Mrs. Harrison as the assisting hostess. At that meeting Mrs. Robert Kern will read a paper and Mrs. Robert Arnold will be in charge of roll call.

Peggy Pittman Feted at Party

Ten young friends of Miss Peggy Ann Pittman were invited to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs Clyde Pittman, 642 Gilbert avenue, for a party in observance of her sixth birthday anniversary, Thursday afternoon.

Games engaged the guests with prizes being won by Betty Harrington, Patrick Kiley and Charles Holmes. The guests gave the honoree many lovely gifts.

At the close of the afternoon luncheon was served at a long table decorated in a pink and blue color scheme, and centered with a large birthday cake. Each of the guests received novel favors.

Those attending the party were Betty and Richard Harrington, Dolores and Alvin Wharton, Charles Holmes, Marie Briggs, Patsy Gump, Cary Gabor and Patrick Kiley.

REGULAR MEETING.

Bide-A-Wee club members played bridge at two tables Wednesday afternoon during their regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Harry Hostetler, 126 Blanche street. Luncheon was served at the close of the card games. Another meeting, in two weeks will be with Mrs. C. R. Ladd 593 Grant street.

Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Harmon Boyd

Shown above is Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Harmon Boyd. She was the former Miss Donna Whiteman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Whiteman of Marion, before her marriage Thursday evening, which was solemnized at St. Matthews Lutheran church by Rev. Charles Sheriff, at 7:30. Sgt. Boyd is stationed at Lockbourne Air Base in Columbus, where the couple will make their home after a short wedding trip.

COUPLE MARRIES

BUCYRUS — North Robinson United Brethren parsonage was the scene of the marriage Sunday afternoon of Miss Irma L. Beach of New Winchester, and Donald Colsamire of Bucyrus. The couple will live in New Winchester.

Mrs Colsamire is employed at the Studebaker company in Galion and her husband is a farmer by occupation.

HOSPITAL NOTES

SHELBY — Shelby Memorial hospital notes. Admitted: Mrs. Robert Payne, 32 Mansfield avenue, and Miss Grace Case, 79 East Main street.

Dismissed: Mrs. Frank Polachek and infant son, Willard; Mrs. Harold Rinehart and infant daughter, 21 East Jefferson avenue; Mrs. Granville Graves and infant daughter, 28 Grove avenue; and Mrs. Dennis Bailey and infant daughter, Shiloh.

Colony Members Hear Interesting Program

Activities of the American Red Cross were outlined in an interesting manner Thursday when Mrs. Beatrice Balycat, office secretary of the Richland county chapter of the organization, spoke at the meeting of the Colony club in the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

The program was preceded by a dessert-luncheon, for which Mrs. E. T. Weaver, Mrs. F. A. Burger and Mrs. W. C. Mylander were hostesses.

Mrs. Paul Rossborough, a member of the Colony club, who attended recent sessions of the Civilian Defense school conducted by the chemical warfare service of the U. S. Army at Purdue university, related highlights of her training, her topic being "Bombing and Panic."

Five members of the club presented an entertaining as well as informative dramatic sketch depicting three branches of civilian defense. Mrs. Dean Dickerson, Mrs. Richard Taylor and Mrs. D. Lawrence outlined features of the nutrition classes, and Mrs. Don Lathrop spoke on canteen work, while Mrs. Clifford C. Warner's topic was block leadership.

During the short business meeting the members completed plans for a dance on March 5 at the American Legion home which will be for members, their husbands and guests. Music for the affair will be provided by Nels Blocker's orchestra.

The next regular meeting of the club will be March 11, a dessert-luncheon at the Mansfield-Leland hotel with Mrs. Lathrop, Mrs. E. E. Eaton and Mrs. J. Keith serving as hostesses.

ISSUE WARNING

SHELBY — Shelby police today warned Shelby residents to keep their dogs tied up as they had received numerous complaints that the dogs had been upsetting garbage cans and knocking over shrubbery.

The county dog warden will be in the city two days a week to pick up stray dogs, police disclosed.

GETS SCHOOL FUNDS

BUCYRUS — The first quarterly settlement from the Ohio school foundation brought into Crawford county this week $22,079.64 for rural schools and $10,626.07 for Bucyrus city schools.

To iron monograms on pillow slips, place the slips monogram side down on a turkish towel. Iron on the wrong side of the slip until dry.

COUPLE TO WED

BUCYRUS — March 6 has been announced as the date of the approaching marriage of Miss Delores Kinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo H. Kinn, East Warren street, and Paul Mollenkopf, 352 Whetstone street.

The nuptials will take place in Holy Trinity parsonage.

VOTE FUNDS

MILLERSBURG — Two resolutions were passed on Tuesday afternoon by Holmes county commissioners: They voted to appropriate the sum of $300 for the Holmes County Agricultural society and passed a resolution to match funds with the sale for poor relief in Holmes county.

The state will provide $4,212.78 and Holmes county will furnish a like sum for poor relief for the county.

When washing powders are added to laundry suds, mix them thoroughly and then add the clothes. Never sprinkle the powder over the clothing, as it may be so strong that it will damage the cloth.

MISS BOYCE HONORED AT SPINSTER PARTY

Bride-Elect of John Capper of Cleveland Feted at Home of Mrs. William Uhde; Mrs. Robert Dunson Is Associate Hostess.

THE LAST in a series of pre-nuptial showers, honoring Miss Doris Boyce, bride-elect of John Capper, of Cleveland, was given Thursday night in the home of Mrs. William Uhde, 256 Walter avenue, in the form of a spinster party. Assisting Mrs. Uhde was Mrs. Robert Dunson.

In keeping with the theme of the party, upon Miss Boyce's arrival, she was asked to change into a costume, that of an old maid. She was known the rest of the evening as "Aunt Matilda." At intervals, when an alarm went off, "Aunt Matilda" ascended the stairs, a candle in her hand, and hunted for miniature gifts.

During the evening eight guests, close friends of the bride-elect, made a bride's book.

When luncheon was served late in the evening, a clever idea was skillfully carried out in the centerpiece. A bride's bouquet was formed from gaily colored spools of thread with a background of dainty doilies tied with bows of blue and pink ribbon. Snaps and other articles found in a sewing basket completed the bouquet from which streamers extended along the center of the table.

The hostesses used individual miniature hats made from thimbles and doilies, and alternated with bows of pink and blue as favors.

Following the luncheon, Miss Boyce changed to her formal attire, and was presented with a shower of kitchen gifts. The hostesses presented her with the centerpiece, and a set of dishes.

Miss Boyce, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boyce, 126 Dawson avenue, and Mr. Capper, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Capper, of Hudson, Mich., will exchange vows in the Park Avenue Baptist church Saturday, Feb. 27 at 7:30 p. m. Miss Boyce, formerly of Mansfield, is now residing in Cleveland.

Bunco Played At Busy Bee Club

Mrs. Chester Secrist, 202 Bennett street, entertained members of the Busy Bee club, Thursday night, at her home. Nine members and three guests, Mrs. Eva Swisher, Mrs. Alice Fisher and Miss Darlene Secrist, were present.

Bunco was the diversion of the evening, with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Clara Calver, Mrs. Clyde Charles, Mrs. Bessie Sheets, and Mrs Swisher. Luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sheets, North Mulberry street, March 11.

WITH MRS. GORDON.

Members of the "Every Other Tuesday" club met at the home of Mrs. Fred Gordon, 198 Sycamore street, Tuesday afternoon. Cards were played and prizes won by Mrs. Charles Kochheiser, Mrs. Wayne Terry and Mrs. Roy Gale. Luncheon was served at the close of the meeting. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Kochheiser, 45 Douglas avenue.

Sorority Members Have Meet With Miss Blackstone

Miss Dorothy Blackstone, 233 Bartley avenue, entertained members of Sigma Kappa Gamma sorority at a business meeting Thursday evening, at which time it was decided to contribute to the Red Cross War fund.

Miss Lois Smith was appointed to fill the secretary's position vacated by Mrs. Robert Rhoades, the former Miss Marguritte Boyer, who is leaving today to join her soldier husband in New Jersey.

The sorority paper, "The Tatler," will be distributed to members next week by the editors, Mrs. Dale Bryan and Miss Charlotte Brightbill. Editors appointed for the March edition are Miss Martha Phillipon and Miss Helen Desterhaft.

Mrs. Rhoades was presented with a personal gift from her sorority sisters as a parting gesture. The meeting was brought to a close with members singing the sorority's song. Miss Dorothy Kelly will be hostess to the group on March 11, at her home, 241 Rhein avenue. At that time, election of officers will be held.

Club Meets With Mrs. Laubscher

The Mary Martha Bible club held its regular meeting Thursday night with Mrs. A. A. Laubscher, 272 Helen avenue, at which time Mrs. Wade Simmons was a guest.

Devotions were led for the 12 members by Mrs. K. R. Smith, president of the club. The organizing committee reported that the Mizpah club now has a membership of fourteen.

Mrs. E. D. Bucker had charge of the lesson study from the tenth chapter of Romans. The next meeting will be held March 11 at the home of Mrs. Myron Miller, 459½ Glessner avenue.
